Morning Voting at Record Pace

Joining the heavy early turnout of Victoria voters at the Cormorant and Government polling station today to cast their ballots were Mayor Percy Scurrell and Mrs. Scurrell, left; mayoralty aspirant J. Donald Smith, centre, and Lieutenant-Governor

Frank Ross, right. It was the first time Mr. Ross has voted in Victoria civic elections, as he exercised his right as a freeman of the city, an honor he received earlier this year. (See story below.) (Photos by Irving Strickland)

City Woman Killed ---Crushed by Truck

An unidentified elderly woman was killed almost instantly when crushed under a truck in downtown Victoria shortly before 2 p.m. today.

The fatality occurred at Fort and Quadra Streets.

Police said the woman stepped from the curb on the south side of Fort, intending to cross Quadra, and the truck was turning left off Fort, to go south on Quadra.

The driver, Harry Schild, 4905 Townsend, told police he did not see the victim.

Before he knew it, the woman was under the front of the Fensham Electric panel truck he was driving.

She was pinned under the vehicle about 10 minutes before a wrecker could lift it clear. Police rushed her to St. Joseph's Hospital.

She was dead on arrival. City police prowler car officer Louis Pletz was at the scene.

He was driving east on Fort and stopped to allow the death truck to make its turn. The officer said he did not see the woman either.

Cubans Capture U.S. Escapee

HAVANA (AP) — Frank Austin Young, American fugitive from a 30-year Cuban jail sentence, was arrested in a Havana hotel today after slightly more than 24 hours of freedom.

Hotel officials said Young registered there Wednesday under the name of Jack Morton.

Cmdr. Jose Argibay, regimental chief of Pinar Del Rio, reported earlier in the day that Young and Sergio Hernandez Reyes, who escaped with him, presumably were in Havana.

He said an automobile driver reported that he picked up two men Wednesday, one of them a North American, and that he brought them to the capital.

He identified Young when shown a picture of him, Argibay said.

Hotel officials said a waitress spotted Young and reported him to authorities.

Charity Leaps Racial Bars

The Christ Child is many-faced.

He can look like your own youngster, or the little boy down the street, in the next town, or in the next country.

He can be white, or have slanted eyes, or be as black as a coal bin.

He can be healthy, or he can be crippled. He can be as round and fat as a Christmas pudding, or as thin as pain.

All children need the "m" and gentle hand of guidance, children who are sick and troubled more than others.

It is these latter that concern the Unitarian Service Committee in its current appeal for funds through the Times.

It is a Christ-like concept on the eve of His birth who said "suffer the little children to come unto me..."

The drive for money will help children with slanted eyes who suffer war wounds and other hurting physical results of the war in Korea, maiming polio and other diseases.

Specifically, the aim is to build a rehabilitation centre in Seoul's Sam Yook home where 150 of these children are facing life with drawbacks unknown to more fortunate peoples.

ARSON BLAMED IN SCHOOL FIRE

VANCOUVER (CP)—A fire department official said it appears certain a fire that destroyed a 30-year-old school building early today was set by two "diabolical" arsonists. The three-storey, wooden building, part of a series of four buildings that make up John Oliver secondary school, one of the largest high school complexes in Western Canada, was valued by school board officials at $350,000.

It was near a $2,000,000 new cement structure.

Fire Warden Capt. Jack Bourne said it appears certain that two men seen near the area after the fire were responsible for it.

He said the "hoodlums" responsible were probably the same ones who attempted to set fire to the Sir Winston Churchill secondary school Monday.

Maritimes Professor Heads Scholarships

OTTAWA (UPI) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker today announced the appointment of a committee to help administer the 100 Commonwealth scholarships and fellowships Canada will offer next year.

Dr. W. Argue, dean of science at the University of New Brunswick, was named to head the 12-member committee, to be known as the Canadian Commonwealth scholarship and fellowship committee.

FAIRCLOUGH STATES CASE

'Mockery of Law Tried by Chan'

OTTAWA (CP) — Weldon Chan, seeking to stay in Canada, has broken Canadian law more than once and will be deported with his wife and child when he is found, Immigration Minister Ellen Fairclough said today.

In a statement, Mrs. Fairclough said that Chan "has on successive occasions broken the law of this country and he has indeed attempted to make a mockery of the law that it is my duty to uphold." She said the Chan family has been treated "in a fair and considerate manner."

They will be sent back to Hong Kong once Chan, who vanished Nov. 2, is found.

Mrs. Chan spent a half-hour with Mrs. Fairclough Wednesday afternoon in a vain attempt to get the minister to change her mind. Mrs. Fairclough has already described the whole Chan episode as a "publicity campaign more than an immigration department matter."

THREE OTHER ATTEMPTS Her statement today covered three other attempts by the Chans, who have a daughter, to get into Canada, each of them futile.

In September, 1950, the Chans were said to have applied for non-immigrant visas at Hong Kong using the name Chan Yue Kwan and stating they wished to visit the Chan father-in-law, a Mr. Dong Jam Lung, although the latter had

Big Turnout At City Polls

Traffic Pile-Up In Civic Election

By JOHN MIKA

Traffic jams on sidewalks and roads began piling up today outside the city polling station as Victorians flocked to the polls in what promised to be record numbers.

Harrassed electoral officials, traffic police and parking attendants were rushed off their feet all morning as the relentless stream of people flowed into the Victoria Ballroom, Government and Cormorant.

"I believe this will turn out to be a record vote," returning officer Frank Hunter said.

By noon, 3,723 votes had been cast—about 2½ times the average number during the first four hours of voting in the last three elections. Last year there were only 1,464 votes by noon.

The traditional peak hours of voting—2 to 3:30 p.m.—were expected to produce an unprecedented rush today.

Record 15,000 Votes Possible

The fluoridation referendum, the hot mayoralty race and one of the largest fields of aldermanic candidates in history accounted for the big early turnout.

If the heavy turnout continued until 8 p.m. closing tonight, it would produce about 15,000 votes which easily would surpass the previous record turnout of 63 per cent in 1938.

Altogether, 20,352 persons are on this year's voters' list. The heavy run of voters began sharp at 8 a.m. when about 20 persons lined up for the door-opening.

Despite damp weather, the early voters were predominantly older persons—many of them hobbling up the entrance ramp with the assistance of canes. Even a number of Saanich persons mistakenly went to the city polls.

Outside, three city policemen took turns directing traffic at the intersection as cars converged on the corner to park at hooded meters around the building.

Cars Converge on Parking Space

Half a block away, the site of the old market building was packed with cars going in and out as more voters parked. Two commissioners were kept busy guiding them to parking spaces.

Inside the voting station, an endless stream of voters kept returning officer Hunter and his staff of more than 60 men working at a feverish pitch directing persons to the proper booths and straightening out eligibility problems.

No incidents were reported during the morning as a police constable stationed inside the building kept a wary eye on the crowded room.

Drug Firms Must Prove Their Claims

WASHINGTON (CP) — Dr. Mark Nickerson of the University of Manitoba said today stiffer federal controls should be imposed both in Canada and the United States on the advertised claims for new drugs.

Arriving to testify before the Senate anti-trust subcommittee investigating the drug trade, Dr. Nickerson observed that so many new drugs are coming on the market that physicians simply haven't the time to check the validity of advertising claims.

"There must be strict federal control over advertising," he said. "The burden of proving claims should be on the advertiser."

FALSE ALARM

POLICE RUSH CITY BANKS

City police swarmed to Fort and Government branch of the Bank of Commerce expecting a hold-up at 11:35 a.m. today.

Seconds later they were heading for the Royal Bank a few doors up the street, still prepared for a holdup, only to find a false alarm.

The original alarm, set off by accident, was relayed by telephone from the neighboring bank during an alteration in the alarm system.

Phone EV 2-3131 For Results

Due to the wide interest in today's civic voting the Times will provide a special election night service on results. The Times office will be linked by direct wire to polling headquarters to get returns as soon as they are posted.

To keep in touch with the progress counting, phone EV 2-3131. Polls close at 8 p.m. and first figures should be available about 8:30 p.m.

HISTORY MADE

Ross First Freeman To Vote

Lieutenant-Governor Frank M. Ross today made Victoria election history when he cast a ballot in the civic poll as a Freeman of the City.

Although he was the fourth man declared a Freeman, Feb. 4 this year, he was the first in history to use the honor's privilege of casting a vote.

Mr. Ross, who heads the civic voters' list as a result of the honor, even lined up before the doors opened this morning along with about 20 other persons—a vice-regal example to all other citizens on the voters' list.

He got up early to cast the vote because he had to catch an airplane flight.

Ahead of him were the first voters in today's election, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Johnson of 1214 Yates.

Mayor Percy Scurrell, seeking re-election, and J. Donald Smith, one of his opponents, also voted within the first hour the polls were open.

Japan to Import Canada Uranium

TOKYO (Reuters) — The Japan Atomic Fuel Corporation announced today that a total of 8.5 tons of uranium concentrate will be imported from Canada and the United States next month.

The corporation said the fuel will be used for the first Japanese-built atomic reactor now under construction at Tokai village, near Tokyo.

The corporation said that of the total, 6.5 tons will be purchased from Consolidated Denison Company of Canada and the balance from Western Nuclear Corporation of the United States.

Nation-Wide Flights In 90 Minutes—Hees

TORONTO (CP) — Transport Minister Hees today took a squint into the future to give a Toronto audience an indication of what may be in store for aviation 15 to 20 years from now.

He said Canadians likely will see:

1. Coast-to-coast flights in Canada taking only 1½ hours and Atlantic crossings in well under two hours, with supersonic planes flying at a speed of 1,800 miles an hour and at a height of 73,000 feet.
2. Medium-range flights in Canada at speeds of 600 miles an hour instead of the present 200 or 300.
3. Carrying of more than 30,000,000 domestic air passengers annually in Canada—compared with nearly 5,000,000 now—and of more than 10,000,000 passengers to and from Canada on international flights—against 1,500,000 at present.

BLIND LANDINGS

4. Automatic blind-landing systems which will bring planes down on runways in conditions of complete lack of visibility, with pilots monitoring instruments instead of actually flying their craft.

5. Perfection of vertical take-off and landing which will eliminate the long drives to and from an airport and revolutionize short-distance passenger transportation through direct city-to-city hauls.

6. Some form of combined aircraft-ground operation—along the lines of present railway "piggy-back" hauls with trailers—that will combine planes and trucks to offer direct express and cargo services.

REPORTS ON GROWTH

Mr. Hees, addressing the Empire Club of Toronto, also reported on the growth of Canadian aviation in the last decade and on construction of his department's air terminals across the country.

In the last 10 years domestic passenger traffic had increased to nearly 5,000,000 passengers annually from 1,000,000 and passengers on international services to more than 1,500,000, five times the number at the start of the decade.

Major new terminals were already in use at Gander, Torbay and Stephenville in Newfoundland; Quebec City, Windsor, Ont., and Saskatoon, Sask. Next year would see completion of terminals at Halifax, Montreal, Ottawa and Regina. Construction would be completed by 1964 at Toronto, Winnipeg and Edmonton.

Brannen Boys Going Home For Christmas

NANAIMO — More than 100 of the 160 boys at Brannen Lake School for Boys will be allowed four days, starting Dec. 24, to spend Christmas at their homes.

The balance, many of whom are either new arrivals or separated from their homes by long distances, will be entertained by the school staff Christmas Day.

The boys are nearing the end of a Christmas project of repairing and repainting close to 3,000 toys, which will be delivered in hampers Christmas Eve by the Salvation Army.

The school proper is still in the throes of having the new spelling of its name fully accepted.

When it was founded it was named for the lake it borders, known locally as "Brannan Lake." However, a research statistician in the health and welfare department, which administers the school, some time ago found a letter from John Brannen, pioneer resident, by which he deeded his vast holdings to the provincial government.

"A check with the federal government gave the spelling as Brannen," a department spokesman said today, "so we followed suit. It is difficult to acknowledge the change, though, because the school is best known by the incorrect name."

In olden times the English penny coin had a deeply-etched cross so it could be split into halfpennies and farthings.

Europe Storm Death Toll 109

LONDON (AP) — Europe's worst storm in 23 years was blowing itself out today, leaving shipwrecks and 109 dead in its wake.

But coastguardmen, weary after a five-day battle, warned that the tempest might have a sting in its tail.

A little Dutch motor freighter sank in a collision in the Elbe Estuary, some seamen remained in trouble and blinding blizzards struck parts of Scandinavia.

The toll in lives and shipping was the heaviest since the great "blow" of February, 1936, in which more than 200 died.

The Dutch freighter Flamingo went down after a collision with the 3,128-ton German freighter Brunswick. All members of the Dutch crew were rescued.

In all, a half-dozen vessels have gone down. Seven others sent distress calls today. A flooded engine room forced the crew to abandon the British trawler Janet Helen in the North Sea. The sailors were taken off by another British fishing vessel.

In the Baltic the Finnish vessel Borneo, 348 tons, reported that it was drifting with a 25-degree list. It called urgently for a tug.

Three Danish fishing boats with a total of 12 men aboard were missing, but officials said possibly they had lost their radio antennas and could not report in. Two Danish salvage vessels and planes of the RAF and the Danish Air Force were looking for them.

Snowy gales whipped across Sweden for the sixth straight day. Eight inches of snow blanketed Stockholm and high drifts stranded cars.

No Time to Panic

THE UNITED STATES IS NOW experiencing an adverse balance of trade with the rest of the world—an appropriate state of affairs for a creditor nation. Wealth is flowing out of the country at a rate of some $4 billions a year faster than it is flowing in, and this overall fact has encouraged protectionist interests to raise a cry for higher tariffs, decreased imports and a general increase in trade restrictions.

The United States situation, and such proposed attempts to meet it, are thus of vital importance to other countries, including Canada, whose economies could be drastically affected, perhaps wrecked, by a U.S. curtailment of imports.

The facts do not support an alarmist assessment of the U.S. problem, nor do they call for the suggested cure.

The current imbalance of payments, large though it may appear, is not extreme when compared with the $500 billion economy of the United States which, in the opinion of a number of America's most distinguished international economists, is well able to support the drain.

Secondly, the imbalance does not represent an adverse commodity trade situation. On the contrary, in the first half of this year there was an excess of U.S. exports over imports amounting to $1.4 billion.

The current situation has been caused entirely by the huge loan and gift program of the United States, designed to aid underdeveloped countries. Through Marshall Plan, Point Four, Colombo and other assistance schemes, the U.S. is pouring many millions of dollars a year into military and economic aid abroad. If this is a flight of capital it is a planned and premeditated flight on an errand of mercy. The experts urge the importance of continuing foreign aid even at the expense of a net loss of capital.

In the first shock of U.S. businessmen on learning of the imbalance of payments, there was an immediate demand on the Government to do something about it. The protectionist forces urged higher walls, the isolationists called for a halt in foreign aid.

This attitude has not been supported by economic authorities. They see the sound, basic position of the U.S. economy behind the bare statistics. They note that more gold is flowing into the United States today than is leaving it, reversing the earlier trend. They point out that America's comparatively high interest rates—exceeded only by those of Canada and West Germany—are attracting a flood of foreign investment. And they make clear that U.S. imports of goods, while larger than ever before, have decreased in ratio to the growth of the gross national product over the past nine years.

In other words, the American capacity to buy abroad has increased more quickly than actual purchases.

These facts surely do not describe an economy tottering on the brink of bankruptcy, nor do they provide reasons for the extreme emergency measures advocated in some quarters. The solution, as the United States Government rightly says, lies in expanding exports rather than curbing imports—in permitting customer nations to sell more to the United States so they can buy more from it.

President Eisenhower and Congress are unquestionably wise to reject the advice of those who would seize on the current situation as an excuse to impose restrictions on trade and foreign aid, particularly when those restrictions, carried far enough, could ruin some of America's trading allies—including Canada, which sends 60 per cent of its exports to its powerful neighbor—and smash Western unity perhaps beyond repair.

Welcome to a Friend

INDIA'S OVERWHELMING mass demonstration in welcoming President Eisenhower to New Delhi goes far beyond an expression of personal regard for the U.S. leader. It can only be interpreted as an impressive exhibition of feeling for what he represents as head of the democratic West against the communist East.

That fact, and the outstanding way it which it has been made clear by the people of India, constitute one of the most important aspects of the current tour. Visiting as he does at this point in India's quarrel with Red China, Mr. Eisenhower is reaping the benefit of India's awakening ideological consciousness.

Peking, for purposes as yet not clear, has chosen to rouse India's antagonism by armed seizure of some border areas. The Indian resentment has been intense and nationwide. The Eisenhower visit has provided the opportunity for a visible demonstration of feeling, and the result is one to which the communist world may well give some attention.

For many years India has sat on the ideological fence. This was partly due to the pacifist philosophy which governs the people and its leaders, partly to the hope of Mr. Nehru to provide a neutral, uncommitted centre in global affairs which might eventually aid the cause of international peace.

It was only recently that the United States was being strongly criticized in India. American economic aid was suspect, American words were doubted, American motives were scorned.

The present New Delhi spectacle, then, represents a colossal switch of sentiment and an apparently colossal blunder by Communist China. The political repercussions may not become immediately evident, nor need they be extreme. But there can be no doubt of India's feelings today, and this fact in itself is a development of vital importance in world affairs.

Free Enterprise Socialists

IT HAS BEEN CUSTOMARY TO regard Sweden as one of the pioneers of socialist planning.

The Swedes were in the forefront of nations providing state services to the individual that were regarded as examples by socialists in many parts of the world.

But a recent survey indicates that the present state of affairs varies considerably from the old doctrine of a centrally directed economic planning.

"In socialist Sweden," says a special report to The Christian Science Monitor, "more than 90 per cent of the people work in privately owned and operated firms. It is their experience that a rich people cannot afford socialism, certainly not in a welfare state, for expensive social services demand the highest possible tax revenue and the highest possible revenue demands the most profitable business, the most efficient industry and the most agile system of distribution.

"You cannot get these things, they say, by central planning once an economy has overcome the original problem of scarcity. You can get them, and Sweden has got them, in a mixed economy with a bias toward free enterprise."

Here, it seems, is another recognition of shortcomings in nationalization of business and industry.

What's an Amateur?

TWO DISTINGUISHED FIGURES in the international athletic field have stated that the Winter Games are "too tainted with professionalism to be worthy of the Olympic tradition."

They are Marc Hodler, president of the International Ski Federation, and Otto Mayer, chancellor of the International Olympic Committee.

Their remarks have drawn an unusual reply from some Canadian spokesmen. One, representing Canada's designated Olympic hockey representatives, says he can see no reason why the two international figures should differentiate between Winter and Summer Games.

The other, speaking for Canada's Olympic skiers, says they never compete for monetary gain. "It is only in the field of instructing that they receive any remuneration."

We may be old fashioned, but we always understood that the Olympic Games brought together amateur athletes. The adjective is becoming fairly elastic, through state subsidy and such, but there are many who cherish the amateur ideal and see the Olympics as its potential, if not always shining exemplification.

Maybe the Canadian spokesmen have a different definition of amateur to that which once prevailed.

Could it be that the true amateur is the professional who turns amateur for the Olympics, or the man who makes his living at a particular game except when he is competing in it for an amateur laurel? Or is he the man who stays amateur because the pay is higher than it is in some "pro" circles?

LET OUR MOTIVES BE RIGHT

Of the Spirit as Well as the Pocketbook

From an address by the Hon. Lester B. Pearson delivered at the McGill Conference on World Affairs.

PEARSON

PERHAPS the greatest danger of misunderstanding between peoples of different stages of material development, we sometimes call it different civilizations, lies in misapprehension of motives. This can be especially true when the question of economic assistance or mutual aid is involved.

A receiving country is bound to be very sensitive about the spirit behind the action. We, who give, may think that at times they are almost morbidly sensitive. Yet we must lean over backward to remove the impression that our ability to help is any indication of the superiority of our own way of living; or merely a tribute to our compassion and generosity.

Three Reasons

There are three valid reasons why we, of the West, should contribute to the economic and material progress of less fortunate nations through mutual aid.

One, and this does not deny what I have just been saying about the danger of misinterpretation, is a sincere, humanitarian desire on the part of those who are materially more favored to help those who are less.

The second is the recognition that it is in our own interest to live in a world where welfare and prosperity are more universal, more evenly spread than they are now. Economic progress in one part means progress ultimately in all parts. Or, in reverse, a slump area will spread into a residential district unless action is taken to remove it.

The third reason is the hope that international assistance of the right kind and rightly given can serve the cause of international peace and security. The stronger and more stable and prosperous a free nation, the less likely is it to become the victim of conflict or subversion within or aggression from without.

It is important to avoid the impres-edness and subordination which can prejudice their good purposes and results.

There is, in fact, always the risk in international assistance schemes of trying to push a left foot into a right shoe, with resultant disappointment, even irritation, when the wearer complains he is not comfortable and therefore doesn't feel particularly grateful.

So how are we, in Canada, and in other countries, to discharge our share of this international obligation?

In the first place, we must, I repeat, root out of our minds the idea, and reject the attitudes that flow from it, that this kind of assistance is a form of charity; "baksheesh" for the poor neighbor. It is no more charity than the obligation of a more fortunate province in our own federation to assist the less wealthy by equalization payments imposed on the taxpayer through federal legislation.

Then, also, we have no right to attach any political strings to our grants or loans or aid. Quite as important is to avoid doing anything, or saying anything, that will give the impression that such conditions are involved.

Care must also be taken to ensure that we do not use technical, capital assistance programs, such as the Colombo Plan, as merely or even largely a means of disposing of our surplus consumer goods. We do not help people help themselves, which is our objective, by dumping goods in this way.

We must remember that international economic assistance to materially underdeveloped countries is not merely a matter of giving. It is a very complex undertaking which requires more than sentiment and generosity to make its operation successful.

It is something of the spirit, the heart and mind, as well as of the pocketbook.

The Mobile ICBM

By Joseph Alsop, from Washington

ON the basis of all the available evidence, the American analysts now assume that the Soviet intercontinental ballistic missiles and their launch-two. The reasons for being disturbed are easily understood, when our own immobile ICBM weapons system is compared with the presumed Soviet system.

Alsop

Both the American ICBMs already in production, the Atlas, and the next to be produced, the Titan, are designed to be fired from fixed pads. The launching pads themselves are huge and costly installations, which add heavily to the expense of the missile program.

Under Fire

The first three Atlas squadrons will also be "soft" and the next five squadrons will be "semi-soft"—meaning that an enemy missile falling almost anywhere in the vicinity will destroy one of our missiles or its launching pad.

By digging huge concrete pits for the launching pads, the squadrons to be activated after mid-1962 will be "hardened"—meaning that the destruction of any ICBM in these squadrons will cost the enemy a considerable number of ICBMs.

"Hardening" is of the utmost importance, since it multiplies the enemy's minimum requirement of missiles for a first strike by a factor of much more than ten. But the "hardened" squadrons, like the "soft" and "semi-soft" squadrons will still have to fire from costly fixed positions.

Until the solid-fuelled "Minuteman" missile comes into production, the U.S. will have no transportable ICBM. Until a date at least four or five years ahead, therefore, the Kremlin will know just where to find all the nerve-centres of American ICBM strength.

With this knowledge, if the Soviets build enough missiles for the job, they can hope to destroy the whole panoply of American ICBMs in a single surprise attack.

Hard to Locate

In contrast, if the Soviet ICBMs and their launching pads are indeed transportable, the planners in the Pentagon can never know precisely where they are. Like our own ICBMs, to be sure, the Soviet model now in production is thought to be liquid-fuelled, although there are minority doubts, even about this.

If liquid-filled, the Soviet ICBMs can hardly be fired from positions too distant from a rail line. But they can nonetheless be fired from any point where the far-spreading Soviet rail net can carry the special flatcars for the missiles and launching pads, the special tank cars for fuel and the like.

The first rule of the missile balance is that you cannot attempt a first strike, unless you can be sure that your first strike will cripple or prevent the other side's counter-strike. Otherwise, your first strike is simply the first stage in a suicide pact.

Equally, you cannot hope to cripple or prevent the other side's counter-strike if you do not know where the other side's striking power is emplaced.

If the Pentagon planners only know that the Soviet ICBMs must be somewhere close to the Soviet rail net, this is not good enough to permit a first strike.

Dark Picture

Hence the assumption that the Soviet ICBMs are transportable puts a much darker color on a picture that was already quite dark enough. To be sure, the president has repeatedly proclaimed at his press conferences, that a democratic society can never strike the first blow in an H-bomb war. Thus it is tempting to argue that the transportability of Soviet ICBMs hardly matters.

Yet it does matter, and quite enormously, for two reasons.

On the one hand, a transportable ICBM is harder to build and, by any imaginable test, operationally superior to an ICBM that must be fired from a fixed launching pad. Thus the assumed transportability of the Soviet missiles further emphasizes the Soviet lead in missile development.

On the other hand, there is all the difference in the world between the President telling Khrushchev and Company that they are immune to surprise attack by the West's nuclear power; and Khrushchev and Company knowing they are immune to surprise attacks because their own nuclear power is beyond the West's reach.

All the President's assurances could never eliminate a lingering-deterrent doubt. But if this doubt is automatically eliminated by the character of the Soviet ICBMs the West's deterrent will be seriously weakened, both strategically and politically.

SILENT WONDER

The English are a people who like to keep themselves to themselves—incommunicado, shut up—and what they say to each other between the minute of "hello" and the next minute of "good-bye" is largely a matter of shutters. That the people of Milton and Byron, Webster, Shakespeare, Donne, and the greatest poet in the world, should be so closed in ordinary conversation is a world's wonder.

Women Working

I wonder if it has ever occurred to union officials, government, wives of the unemployed, etc., why there is so much unemployment?

Did it ever occur to you mighty men that if more women stayed home and looked after their families there would be more work for men and probably less delinquency? Take for instance a woman I know, she works along with two other women in a large store part-time, and yet when business slowed down a married man with a family was laid off. Also a woman who's husband owns a large appliance store works elsewhere too.

Didn't it ever occur to you women who have so much time on your hands that there are old people, helpless children, and many other charitable organizations who could use your help? If you think I'm an older person suggesting this, I'm not. I have small children. I'm only 25 years old, and manage to do these things in my spare time and my home is not full of modern gadgets. Nor is it dirty.

I suggest that a group of union officials should put into effect a rule that no women should be able to work unless they have a good reason to do so. Such as being a widow, or someone who is in debt because of sickness, etc., or a woman that has been deserted (speaking of married women).

Examine yourselves, you men, are you boss in your home? And you women, what would you rather be, a wife whose husband has a good, steady income and doesn't have to worry about being laid off, or like me, who has an intelligent, hard-working husband who doesn't know whether he'll be working tomorrow or not?

Fine Exhibition

What a great exhibition the boys of David Thompson and Oak Bay High schools gave in their rugby championship game on Saturday last.

Not too skillful perhaps, but for endeavor, pluck and sportsmanship one would have to travel a long way to witness its equal.

In the light of the somewhat odorous name which teenagers have acquired in recent years, I venture to state that whilst such boys as these are around and playing games, there isn't too much wrong with them.

To the coaches, players and in fact to all helpers in the teen-age field, our thanks.

Socialism's Answer

Many workers believe the capitalist fairy tale that the solution to market slumps and unemployment, falsely blamed on high wages, is "reasonable" wages to help employers drive competitors off the market and other workers out of a job. Is this seesaw battle to see who gets the markets, which workers eat and which go hungry, their idea of unity and common advancement?

The problem is that markets as a whole diminish. This is because the workers get, not too much, but inherently too little under the capitalist profit system, a fraction of their product.

This is why surpluses accumulate and glut the markets.

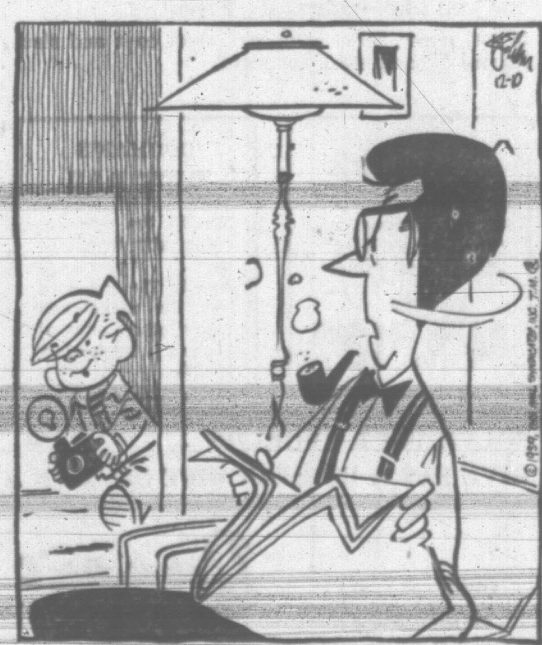

The socialist Labor Party urges the workers to organize on the basis of their class interests, to scrap the labor-dividing caricatures of unionism which keep them on the capitalist treadmill and build the class-conscious Socialist Industrial Union, whereby ultimately to enforce their victorious socialist ballot by assuming collective and democratic control of the means of their livelihood.

Only this can guarantee them the bountiful fruits of their labor, an end to depression and war breeding surpluses, and the necessity of cutting each other's throats in a struggle for security.

Jane

THIS column strikes me as having been rather cross of late. So, today, let's relax and have a little gentle fun with Jane.

In Victoria, we all know Jane. She's fiftyish or over, grey-haired, growing thick in the waist, quiet and modest, more given to understatement than to exaggeration.

As a rule, she's fairly gentle. But, if something she values is threatened, she'll speak up boldly in its defence. (Some of Victoria's "Janes" are devoted to cats. Some to dogs. Some to birds. And some to the more fragile alpine plants.)

Jane doesn't mind at all what others think of her. For, so long as her conscience doesn't bother her, she has a quiet, inner self-confidence, or "peace of mind," as we call it nowadays.

Jane usually comes from England, but, in many ways, she acts as if she came from Missouri. For she questions what she hears and reads, and she's no pushover for the Madison Avenue boys. In fact, she reads their more excited ads, with startled amusement and caustic comments.

"Just listen to this," she'll say to her husband. "Now, at last, after years of research and experiment, the scientists at X Company are thrilled and proud to announce the discovery of a new deodorant. Doesn't that make you jump for joy, dear? All that work and a lovely new deodorant at the end? It's newer, whiter, fluffier than any we have ever had before. Almost a wonderful, I'd say, as that new tear-soft, finger-tip toilet paper they're so proud of."

"Won't it be a glorious day when America finally clambers out of the armpit and the toilet bowl?"

"Santa's a sex symbol," she announced at breakfast the other morning. "No, it's in the paper. Some Dutch psychologist says so. Pass me another slice of toast, dear. Poor old Santa Claus. First Dr. Chisholm, and then this. I can't keep up with it at all."

"Yes, Jane can be caustic and amusing when she wants to be. But she has her serious side as well.

She believes devoutly in the importance of art galleries, museums, good music, good films, and a first class liberal arts college for Victoria. "The Massey Report things" she sometimes calls them loosely.

The announcement of a new car model—"with eyes and teeth" as she puts it—leaves her entirely cold. But she was delighted to hear that the French film, "Les Jeux Interdits," was being shown at a local theatre.

"Enchanting," she said to her friends. "Like a breath of fresh air after the morbid, violent, sexy films we've been having. I lived in it for days, and kept seeing those delightful children."

Jane saw "Don Quixote," too, and left the theatre as soon as the film was finished. She didn't want to see the horrors, Jane said, as they might have spoiled the mood created by the film.

"Like a wonderful sermon," she said to her husband. "The nobility and compassion of it, and the sense of triumph in spite of the ridicule and failure."

Naturally, Jane never misses an Audubon Screen Tour film if she can help it. For Jane loves the unspoiled country, and her idea of a civilized city is one with a "green belt" of natural parks where nature lovers can wander peacefully.

It's the fashion to laugh at the "Janes" among us, and, indeed, Jane often laughs at herself.

"You know, I'm crazy," she's been known to say. "But, somehow, it doesn't worry me. The world's so mad these days, that one more crazy type really doesn't matter!"

CPR REGRETS DEAL

What's Good In 1897 Not So Good Now

OTTAWA (CP) — The CPR dug into history Wednesday to show the royal commission on transportation what it got and what it gave under the controversial 1897 Crownest Pass agreement.

While the railway didn't come right out and say it, the implication was clear that a deal that seemed good in 1897 wasn't so hot 60 years later.

The Crownest agreement formed the basis for low freight rates — now fixed by law — on shipments of vast quantities of Prairie grain to export terminals at the Lakehead, Pacific coast and Churchill, Man.

The railways, still collecting the same freight charges on export grain as they did at the turn of the century, contend they're losing $65,300,000 a year in hauling the Prairie crop.

"MISUNDERSTANDINGS"

Howard C. Reid, assistant controller of the CPR, went before the commission Wednesday to clear up some "misunderstandings" about the original grants and obligations of the crown agreement.

Under it, he said, here's what the CPR got:

- 1. A cash subsidy of $3,404,000 from the federal government; one-third of the cost of building a 310-mile rail line from Lethbridge, Alta., to Nelson, B.C., through the Crownest Pass.

- 2. A grant of 3,755,733 acres of land from the British Columbia government which finally produced a net gain of $1,834,000 for the CPR.

- 3. Provincial and municipal tax exemption on the land until leased, occupied or sold and a 10-year tax exemption on the railway line itself.

Under the same agreement, he added, the CPR accepted obligations to:

- 1. Build and operate the Crownest Pass rail line.
- 2. Reduce eastbound rates on grain and westbound rates on other commodities.
- 3. Give the federal government 50,000 acres of coal-bearing land from the B.C. land grant.

- 4. Offer the B.C. land for sale to the public at government-set prices.
- Mr. Reid also disputed claims that the B.C. land grant was extremely valuable, saying this was not the case.

Canada Abstains Again on Race Vote

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) — The UN special political committee Wednesday approved a resolution urging South Africa to "enter into negotiations" with India and Pakistan on the question of the treatment of people of Indian origin in South Africa.

The vote was 58 in favor, none against and 10 abstentions, including Canada. It was the final item of business for the committee. The resolution now goes to the General Assembly, which earlier criticized South Africa's policies of apartheid, or racial separation.

India said during debate that an estimated 500,000 people of Indian descent—most of them South African nationals—suffer discrimination in that country. Pakistan spoke in similar vein and both Asian countries demanded inter-governmental negotiations on the matter.

Australia's annual export of manufactured and semi-manufactured goods has risen to $247,500,000 in 1959, from $139,500,000 in 1955.

Treatment of Dying

Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation

Of late, I have received several thoughtful letters from fine trained nurses who said that they were so distressed over the way in which some old persons, dying with a terrible stroke or with cancer scattered all over them, were being over-treated, that they keep wishing something could be done to moderate the zeal of some of us physicians who like to keep treating strenuously, long after all hope for a cure has gone. The nurses said they felt ashamed to do the sort of work they often were ordered to do for these dying old people.

Just now my secretary brings me a letter from a nurse who says she is unhappy because she just came off the case of a senile and mentally "not-all-there" old man of 95. He was rushed to the hospital, unconscious and dying with a heart attack.

As the nurse says, 30 years ago, when she was in training, such a man would have been allowed to die in peace in his bed at home with his family around him. This man was put in an oxygen tent, and given two transfusions of blood. What these transfusions were supposed to do is hard to say. Large amounts of fluid then were given intravenously; and, of course, a large number of expensive laboratory tests were ordered. Again, it is hard to say what these tests were supposed to show—that could possibly have helped in the diagnosis and treatment of the man's case.

Often today, we see extensive laboratory tests ordered routinely without any reason—when the diagnosis already is obvious. Then an X-ray machine was wheeled into the room and films were made of the man's heart. Electrocardiograms, of course, were made. Large amounts of heart stimulants were given; and the patient was started on heparin with the idea of keeping him from getting another heart attack—if he could live long enough to have it!

Then, several drugs were given with the hope of waking the man out of his unconscious state. The nurse had no patience with this because, as she said, the smell of the old man's breath told her he was dying. The next morning he was dead. About this time the patient's only daughter arrived after a long airplane trip. According to my correspondent, this woman, who was in only moderate circumstances, got bills amounting to $450!

As the nurse says, she is satisfied that the doctor who ordered all this futile but very expensive work did it with the best of intentions. He is a man who prides himself on being the most thorough and scientific man in town, and he doubtless feels that a physician always should keep fighting desperately for the life of his patient—even when this patient is 95 and senile and obviously dying. I imagine that, when in college, he was trained to do this by professors who felt that this sort of thing is right.

Like the nurses, I just cannot believe that it is right, and often it outrages me. For 35 years I have been going up and down this land begging young physicians not to do everything routinely, but always to stop for a moment to think, and ask themselves, "Are these tests or this treatment or this operation really needed in this particular case? Will what I am now ordering do the patient any good?"

Zoo Curator To Antarctic For Penguins
VANCOUVER (CP) — Curator Alan Best of Stanley Park zoo has left on a 4,500-mile journey into the Antarctic in search of 60 penguins.

Before he returns in February, he hopes to bag members of four species. About 30 of the birds will be for the Vancouver zoo. The remainder will be sold to offset expenses of the trip.

The first leg of the journey will take Best to Santiago, Chile. He then will take a boat from Uruguay to Falkland Island, 900 miles south.

Best hopes to catch the penguins in the vicinity of South Georgia, a whaling station 1,100 miles south of the tip of South America.

It is his third trip into the area for the birds.

Sound Opposition Big Need

This is the eleventh of a series of articles by Times editor Bruce Hutchison after a visit to Japan at the invitation of that country's government.

The greatest man in postwar Japan, and one of the most decisive in its history, is Shigeru Yoshida who, after a long career as a diplomat and persecution by the military for his opposition to the war, established a free, democratic system of politics and a firm alliance with the United States.

Naturally, I sought out this formidable personage (not an easy man to reach) and asked him what he thought of a political system so much of his own making. Mr. Yoshida did not beg that rather brash question. After all his success in conservative government he realizes, perhaps better than his successors, the need of an alternative government—a need second only to a ruling government based on a unified party, as the existing government is not.

Change Must Come

The retired statesman and oracle would agree, I fancy, with the common saying that Japanese government cannot always remain, as it has for more than 14 years, "the 57 varieties of Yoshida."

At any rate, he told me, with the candor he can now afford in old age, that he hoped to see a responsible, coherent opposition to his Liberal-Democratic party, and to his policies, emerge as soon as possible. That remark was made just two weeks before an irresponsible, incoherent opposition confirmed Mr. Yoshida's dictum by precipitating its latest riot in the Diet grounds to discredit the alliance with the United States. The sage and philosopher of politics can take these things calmly.

He entertained me, with a laughing mischievous wit, in his lovely garden outside Tokyo and in a study filled by such souvenirs of his crowded life as a polar bear skin, the gift of his friend, Mr. Louis St. Laurent.

Resembles Winston

A short, solid figure in black kimono, with a powerful square face of almost Anglo-Saxon lines, Mr. Yoshida reminds everyone of Winston Churchill (including the well-chewed cigar). Greatly admiring Churchill, the Japanese statesman has the Briton's habit of blunt, careless speech.

Indeed, his furious outburst at a foolish opposition in the Diet led to his political eclipse. Mellowed by his more than 80 years, happy in his ancestral garden, he told me he was glad to be out of politics (though such a man, I guessed, can never be out entirely, so long as the telephone lines are open to Tokyo).

Anyway, he takes a realistic but hopeful view of Japan's political future. "I am," he chuckled over the lavish tea table, "an optimist."

Yes certainly, for all its troubles, democracy was here to stay in Japan and it would learn as it gathered experience. But he quickly went on to identify the great flaw in the parliamentary system. It required, he said, a sane, moderate opposition of the left.

An unshaken believer in private enterprise, Mr. Yoshida did not seem disturbed because such an opposition would be socialist. Unfortunately, however, there is no coherent opposition today, socialist or otherwise. Just as I arrived in Tokyo the Socialist party fell apart, with consequences grave and incalculable.

The moderate socialists, a minority of some two-score legislators, walked out to form a new group, temporarily called the Socialist Club and roughly equivalent to the British Labor Party, because they could no longer tolerate the revolutionary methods of the majority.

Not Nation-Wide

These moderates—mostly men of education and foreign experience—regard the rulers of the Socialist party as confused ambitious, dangerous men, with more naivety than ideology, who would finally destroy the whole parliamentary system by their tactics of class warfare, mass demonstration and often riot.

Neither the official Socialist party nor the new Socialist Club is yet a national party. The former is based narrowly on the left-wing labor unions known as Sohyo, and the latter, so far, on the moderate unions of Zenro.

Before it can hope to take office one of these factions must find a wider base, like that of the government, which is elected by businessmen, farmers and a general mass of the naturally conservative Japanese voters. In that process one of the factions must extinguish the other and until then—barring an external accident of world power or an internal depression—the ruling party seems safe for years to come.

The real hope of a coherent opposition dedicated to the parliamentary system rests in the Socialist Club, which so far lacks even a permanent name.

Movement of Reform

Dependent at the moment for votes and money on the Zenro unions, the new group hopes gradually to attract some Sohyo support, the unorganized workers, the small businessmen and the poor people generally in a movement of reform broad enough to replace the regnant conservative government.

That objective is a long way off, as its advocates admitted to me quite frankly. A long way off, too, is the rehabilitation of the Socialist party and much more probable its decline as it disgusts the public by its methods of violence.

While the grim internecine struggle of the opposition proceeds, the extreme left—no longer stabilized by the moderates—is likely to swing still further leftwards, to outright anti-parliamentarianism, direct action, disorder and something like Communism. For it hopefully awaits the day when Japan will suffer an inevitable "capitalist" depression and will be ripe for a Keresky, then for his successor.

Simple Objectives

If it thus swings to final extremes it will swing out of the orbit of practical democratic politics, as the Socialist Club anticipates.

The real objectives of the Socialist party's sansculottes is plain enough in their public proclamations and their statements to me. They are determined to oust American influence from Japan, to declare a neutral policy at first and then to co-operate fully with a Communist empire which they consider efficient, enlightened and benign.

This is not the view of all the formal Socialists by any means and more of them may drift into the moderate group, but the Socialist party has come under the control of the extreme radicals. And whatever the radicals may call it, their policy means some form of authoritarianism. That suits Russia and China well.

Dissidents Wooded

But those wily powers are not counting on Japanese Socialism and neo-Communism because it is too far from office and apparently reached its peak by winning a third of the Diet seats at the last election.

Instead, Moscow and Peking are wooing the dissidents of the Conservative party because it alone seems able to get elected.

Up to now this stealthy love affair has not gone far. So long as China refuses to trade with Japan unless it destroys the existing government, Prime Minister Kishi doesn't have to worry even when some of his prominent supporters visit Peking and return with praises of China's progress.

China the Magnet

The Japanese voters resent this attempted foreign interference in their affairs. Nevertheless, behind Japan's future looms, as always, an old ponderable—China has already supplied most of Japanese culture and is still a mighty magnet pulling the Japanese mind toward the mainland.

All these things were in my thoughts, and doubtless in his,

SHIGERU YOSHIDA

as Mr. Yoshida led me to my car (pausing to observe Mount Fuji through an arch of shaggy pines) and I prepared to re-enter the jungle of Japanese politics at Tokyo. There I would find not even the beginnings of a coherent opposition.

Deadly Strontium-90 In Milk Shows Drop

PETERBOROUGH, Ont. (CP)—Health Minister Monteith Wednesday night reported a declining national average of radioactive strontium-90 in milk powder samples tested in 15 centres across the country.

Mr. Monteith said the national average levels of strontium-90 have declined steadily since June to reach an average of 14.6 micromicrocuries in the third quarter from July to September.

This compared with an average of 18 micromicrocuries in the second quarter and 14.6 in the first three months of the year.

Lost Fisherman Feared Drowned

Suspected Polio Victim Flown to Vancouver

CAMPBELL RIVER (CP)—Seven-year-old Catherine Simper of Willow Point was flown to hospital in Vancouver Wednesday suffering from suspected polio. She would be the province's 110th polio victim this year.

NANAIMO—Ald. Douglas Greer has urged taxpayers to vote Dec. 17 in favor of turning 752-acre Newcastle Island over to the B.C. government for development as a provincial park.

City council will insist on planned development by the government before handing over the island, which it bought from the CPR in 1955 for $153,000.

DUNCAN—R. McConach, Duncan, was fined $200 in Duncan police court Wednesday after pleading guilty to impaired driving Dec. 3, and was restricted to driving for business purposes only for 60 days. A former North Cowichan councillor, he works as an insurance salesman.

COURTENAY—Fraser Valley Lands Ltd. has advised city council that it has abandoned plans to build a $500,000 shopping centre near here.

NANAIMO (CP)—Arthur Lione, chairman of the Library Building Society, announced Wednesday a $25,000 fund-raising campaign will begin in February to obtain money for a new building.

Minerals First

VANCOUVER—The British Columbia and Yukon Chamber of Mines says the mineral resources of the southwest Yukon have more potential than the area's tourist-luring natural beauty.

In a brief submitted to Northern Affairs Minister Hamilton, the organization says establishment of a national park in the St. Elias mountain region of Yukon territory would adversely affect mineral exploration in western Canada.

The brief states the value of mining in the Yukon is much greater than the tourist potential. It adds mining could open up the area to tourists.

plied pulp and paper mills with caustic soda and other raw materials manufactured by electrolysis.

MOVE TO MAINLAND

The chamber had asked the company to confirm a news report that they were planning to locate near Squamish, but Mr. Shanaman's letter implied that a decision had not yet been reached.

"Power is of such importance to our project that it would be senseless for us to commence building until a satisfactory solution has been found," Mr. Shanaman wrote. "It is conceivable that we might find the answer on the mainland, and it is presumed that the news item had reference to this fact."

The firm would need power at the rate of 3.1 mills per kilowatt to compete, but the best price available from the B.C. Power Commission is 6.2 mills. B.C. Electric is giving a competitor power at the cheaper rate on the mainland, and had offered to give Pennsalt the same rate, plus transmission costs, at a Vancouver Island plant.

SALT SPRING FIRE VOTE ON WEDNESDAY

GANGES—Salt Spring Island residents will vote next Wednesday, Dec. 16, on five trustees to serve on the board of the newly-formed island fire protection district.

Election will take place in Mahon Hall, and owner-electors only will be eligible to vote. Returning officer is C. N. Peterson.

With the election of a board of trustees, then affairs of the fire district will be in the hands of ratepayers. Costs of operating the fire department will be born by a tax levy.

Boy's White Shirt Fatal Shot Target

DUNCAN—A hunter mistaking a boy's white shirt for a deer's "flag" was blamed for the death Tuesday of William Robertson, 14, who died in King's Daughters' Hospital after having been shot by his brother, Stanley, 19.

The mishap occurred Sunday morning on a small mountain east of Birds Eye Cove, which is five miles east of Duncan. Verdict of a coroner's jury at an inquest Wednesday night was of accidental death.

The two boys had been wearing white for protection, and it was a spot of white that Stanley shot at with a .303 rifle. He was ready for a second shot, he said, when he heard his brother cry out that he had been hit.

Father of the two boys, Patrick Robertson, 1060 Marchmont, said he and other hunters had "gone wrong" in using white for identification, because it could be confused with the white flash of a deer's tail.

A rider to the jury's verdict recommended that it be mandatory for minors to be kept within full view of the adults with whom they were hunting.

Bank Accepts Your 'Bets,' Even Return Investment

By HAL MALONE
Times Business Editor

For readers who like to gamble but who can't wait until Sandown opens next September, there's a staid 97-year-old institution at Government and Broughton which will readily accept your "bets." Not only that but if at any time you don't like your investment the "banker" will be glad to return your money.

Malone

This particular investment house, known since 1862 as the Canadian Bank of Commerce, isn't in the bookmaking business as such. Neither are the rest of Canada's chartered banks or post offices. But nonetheless they do a sizeable amount of business with people who like to put down the occasional bob.

This particular form of gambling, if you can call it that, concerns premium savings bonds.

It seems that a few years ago when Harold Macmillan was Britain's chancellor of the exchequer he cannily observed that Britons would almost rather gamble than eat. No matter how much legislation was thrown in their way Britons kept on wagering.

Casting about for ways and means to bolster his sagging exchequer, the astute Harold (much like the Las Vegas Harold who long ago realized that other people's gambling folly was his piece of cake) decided to let his countrymen wager in such a way that they and the government could benefit.

The government, he said, would sell premium savings bonds (at $1 each) and would hold a monthly lottery in which each bondholder would be eligible for prizes ranging from $1,000 to $25.

The bonds bear no interest, and are not transferable. But there is a prize fund equal to 4 per cent per annum on the bonds in the draw. No doubt to keep juvenile authorities happy, tots under 16 cannot buy bonds. But the shrewd Mr. Macmillan overcame this nonsense by ruling that bonds can be purchased for and in the name of a child by its parents or guardians.

Commenting on the scheme, E. D. R. "Dad" Hawkshaw, an assistant manager at the Commerce, said: "You have to hand it to Harold when it comes to making money. Our sales of bonds are, to put it mildly, quite large."

A check of the Commerce's record showed that four Victorians have won minimum lottery prizes of $20 each (Canadian translation: $33.50). Hawkshaw says sales usually go in spurts.

But one of our elderly women customers buys $4 worth each month. She's done that every month I can remember."

ANOTHER GIMMICK

Another Macmillan device to make the British treasury bulge is the gold sovereign coin gimmick. The Commerce sells these, too (for $9.50) mostly to people who buy them as gifts. The actual gold they contain, melted down, is about $7.

Quite an ingenious chap, this Macmillan. Seems to have everything going for his treasury that he can think of. At the moment, that is.

East coast shipyards may not be able to trace their ancestry as far back as west coast shipbuilders. But they're dead on the draw when it comes to spotting an oratorical faux pas.

Perusing press clippings of the fight between east and west to get federal government shipbuilding contracts, the easterners spotted a statement by Mayor Percy Scurrah.

Scoffing at the awarding of a contract to Port Weller Dry Docks Ltd., the mayor said: "This yard has never built a ship."

Well, it seems that J. F. Vaughan, general manager of Port Weller, doesn't agree. Admitting that Port Weller is only an infant in the floating bathtub industry (they started in 1946) he sends along a beautifully illustrated brochure of this yard's accomplishments.

Among them: the 717-foot Ss. Seaway Queen, flagship of Upper Lakes Shipping Co., delivered May 30. Before that the Ss. Frank Sherman, third largest Canadian bulk carrier on the Great Lakes, and other vessels. Under construction: a ship 730 feet long, 75 feet wide.

Nice try, Your Worship, but it seems your statement was more patriotic than perfect.

Mercantile Bank Assets Take Jump

MONTREAL (CP) — The Mercantile Bank of Canada today reported an increase of 56 per cent in total assets during its fiscal year ended Sept. 30.

Assets of the banks now are $55,000,000 against $35,000,000 last year, President Henri E. Moquette told the annual meeting the increase is in line with a corresponding increase in activities.

Mr. Moquette said the main factor governing monetary policy is the need to guard against inflation.

Canada Takes Long Look at Wheat Plan

WASHINGTON (CP) — Canada and other wheat exporters apparently have decided to move cautiously before putting up any big amount of cash to promote an increase in world wheat consumption as proposed by the United States.

Informants said these countries want to investigate before they invest and so an announcement will be made shortly setting up a five-country team of wheat experts to make an on-the-spot study of U.S. achievement in promoting consumption, particularly in India, Pakistan and Japan.

They also may have a look at the practical possibilities of setting up small emergency food banks in the underdeveloped areas to provide two or three months' supply of wheat in case of famine or war.

JOINT CAMPAIGN

If the experts are satisfied an investment would pay off, a huge joint promotional scheme may follow with a corps of technicians, nutritionists, baking experts and similar personnel trying to increase wheat consumption in such areas as Southeast Asia, Africa and Latin America.

Costs would be shared by the major wheat exporters which, along with Canada and the U.S., include Australia, France and Argentina. A special wheat utilization committee from the five countries discussed the U.S. proposal last October. The committee was set up as part of President Eisenhower's food-for-peace program.

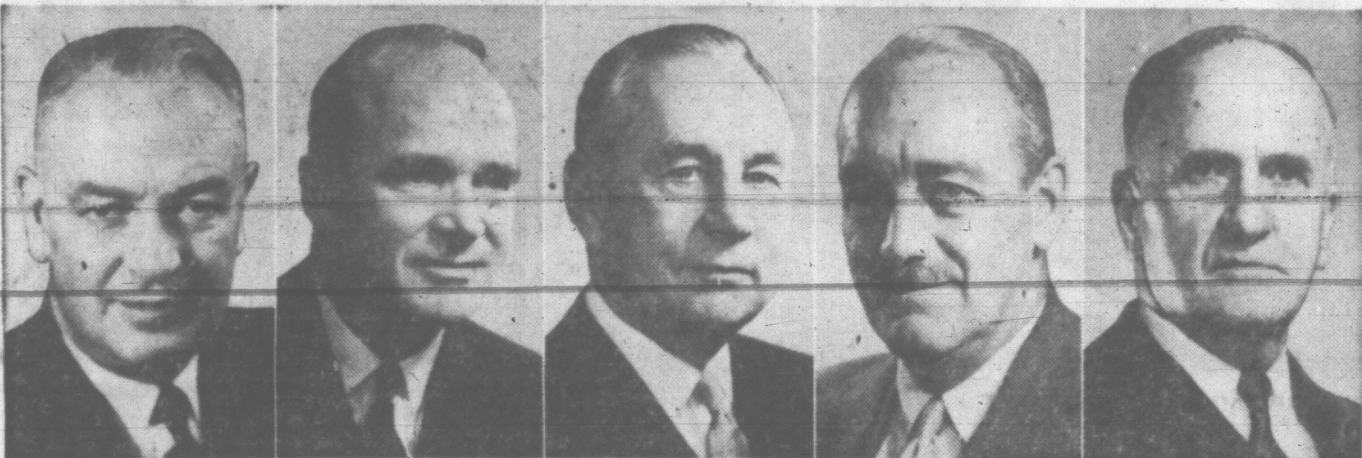

Both Canada and the U.S. have large wheat surpluses.

He was appointed General Manager in 1948 and elected President in 1952. He has been Chairman of the Board of Directors since 1956. Mr. McKinnon was appointed General Manager in 1952 and has been President of the Bank since 1956.

"Something that this country
...just cannot afford"

"Canada is doing business today in an increasingly competitive world. I was immensely impressed, during the course of an extended business trip through the British Isles this autumn, with the vigorous activity and expansion that are apparent on every hand, and with the resolute, and successful, measures to achieve this growth without inflation."

"The United Kingdom and most countries of Europe have faced up to, and dealt with, their monetary problems, and have taken the drastic, unpopular, but necessary steps to achieve stability of costs and prices. Their several moves towards convertibility of their currencies and reduction or removal of import restrictions have placed the onus to compete in their markets squarely upon the seller. These accomplishments of our overseas friends present an example and a challenge, not only to Canada, but if I may say so, to the United States as well."

"I sincerely believe that if we on this continent do not similarly resist the temptation to take the easy inflationary path, there is a real danger of the North American economy becoming a 'high-cost plateau' and living in expensive, but not splendid, isolation from the expanding flows of world trade."

"...another bout of inflation is something that this country, as a trading nation, just cannot afford."

G. ARNOLD HART,
President

PAINFUL MISS FOR GORDIE

Just like swatting flies, goalie Bev Bentley slaps big mitt on puck during hectic scramble around Spokane goal in Western Hockey League game at Memorial Arena Wednesday night. Bev, filling in for injured Emile Francis, had plenty of help on this play as coach Joe Crozier and Bill Burega (5) guard his doorstep. At other times, assistance was less effective and Comets took 4-0 beating from Victoria Cougars. This was painful miss for Victoria's Gordie Wilson, who gets clipped across forehead by Eddie Stankiewicz' stick as he tumbles to ice with Spokane forward. (Photo by Bill Halkett)

Sailors Should Keep an Eye On This Fellow

When Japan's Olympic hockey team opens a six-game B.C. tour at Memorial Arena, Jan. 4, the local lads might be advised to keep their eyes on a fellow by the name of Shigeru Shimada.

He may have something new in the way of hockey tricks since advance publicity on the tourists indicates he isn't any great shakes as a defenceman. According to the advance publicity release sent by the National Hockey Union of Japan, which is obviously unfamiliar with North American hockey lingo, defenceman Shimada "has a terrific shortcoming in defence but is one of the smart players."

The 17-member squad, plus coach and trainer, will arrive in Victoria Jan. 3. Before tackling Navy of Victoria's commercial loop the following night, they will attend a luncheon in their honor at the Empress Hotel.

Details of the tour were released Wednesday by city hockey officials Ivan Temple and Doug Fletcher, along with eastern-English player descriptions.

Dash Is Sharp and Shoot Is Strong

Here are some of the player sketches:

Shoichi Tomita, 24, second-string goalkeeper: "He is rather small but his goalkeeping is reputed as invincible, and it has been circulated broadly since his student days that he is very strong in big games."

Toshihiko Yamada, 27, right wing: "He is light in weight, but is a smart player."

Shigeru Shimada, 24, defenceman: "He is rather small and his power is highly reputed. He has a terrific shortcoming in defence but is one of the smart players."

Joji Iwaka, 27, right wing:

"He is a veteran. Recently, he is making rapid progress in playing and is one of mental player."

Hideori Inatsu, 21, left wing: "Among student players, he is No. 1 and fresh player, who is full of voluminous physical strength and is a fast runner, and his shoot is very strong and sure."

Chikashi Akazawa, 25, defenceman: "He is tallest in his team and wide reach of his defence is very stable."

Hiroki Onikura, 42, coach: "He is one of the much experienced coach in Japan."

Kiyoshi Yoshijima, 42, trainer: "He was a good hockey player at Tokyo S.L.C. and also nice trainer."

Will Play Under Olympic Puck Rules

All of the 17 players except rookie Inatsu are members of three teams—the national champs of 1958 and 1959 and the runners-up—this year. Thirteen are university graduates, five are high school graduates.

Inatsu is 21 and the others range in age from 24 to 29. The tallest is 5-11, the shortest 5-5; heaviest is 174 pounds, lightest is a mere 121 pounds.

Following their game against Navy, the Japanese will tackle the Pacific Coast Amateur Hockey League all-stars at Vancouver Jan. 6, Nanaimo Labatts at Nanaimo Jan. 7, Chilliwack Volvos at Chilliwack Jan. 9, Powell River Regals at Powell River Jan. 11 and Kamloops-Merritt Carlhous at Kamloops Jan. 13.

Olympic rules will be used for all B.C. games. The rules outlaw boarding and allow bodychecking only in a player's own end of the rink.

Memorial Arena officials said this morning that a large number of tickets are still available.

FRANK CASEY EXPLAINS...

White Sox Made Most of Deals

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The major league meetings were over. Casey Stengel had invited the New York writers to his hotel suite to explain why the Yankees failed to make at least one trade.

The famous double talking manager acted out of character. He spoke seriously, frankly and explicitly.

He didn't wait for questions or cues and needed no promptings. He did all the talking.

"We didn't make a deal," Casey began. "But we certainly tried. We talked with every club in the two leagues. We made some pretty good offers but you should have seen the players the other clubs wanted to give us in return."

"Milwaukee wanted our second baseman (Gil McDougald) but they offered us a pitcher who wasn't even in their first four."

"Maybe we could have made two trades but I didn't want to make them and give up the players they wanted. Some of them can't play regular there so how can they play regular for me?"

"I made one mistake though. I let a fellow get away from me. I almost had him but Cincinnati got him. (Chicago Cubs' Bill Henry). I needed a left-handed pitcher as well as a left-handed hitting outfielder. And this pitcher would have helped me."

Three clubs want my second baseman. They also want my catchers. I got three of them and I'm going to keep them all."

"I think Chicago White Sox helped themselves with two deals. They improved themselves at third base and in the outfield. That's where they were weakest. They added a club" lot of hitting without giving up much. Those two fellows (Minnie Miñoso and Gene Freese) hit 44 homers and drove in over 160 runs between them. I still don't understand how Philadelphia let that Freese fellow go, who they tell me is another Babe Ruth."

Bev Had to Wear Shoe But Comets Feel Pinch

Bentley Victim As Cougars Blank Spokane

Cougars 4, Spokane 0

By DOUG PEDEN

The shoe is on the other foot for Seattle's Bev Bentley today; but the guys feeling the pinch are the Spokane Comets.

Bentley is the Seattle goaltender who stopped everything Victoria Cougars could throw his way at Seattle last Sunday. He was the big guy as the Totems crushed the Cats 4-0 and stepped two points ahead in the Victoria-Seattle duel for second place in the Western Hockey League.

Wednesday night the Comets moved into Memorial Arena and glowering at the Cats from the Spokane cage was none other than the same Mr. Bentley, who was called in to don the big pads when veteran Spokane goalie Emile Francis was sidelined with a knee injury.

CATS' NIGHT TO HOWL

This time it was a night for the Cats to howl and they sent the season's smallest crowd—1,792 fans—home happy as they handed Bev a taste of his own medicine—a 4-0 shut-out.

That boosted the Cats back into a runner-up tie with the Totems, set the stage for Saturday's clash with Seattle at Memorial Arena and dropped the Comets back into a last-place deadlock with Winnipeg.

On the way to the triumph that evened the score for the 5-2 defeat handed out by the Comets on their last visit to Victoria, the Cougars proved that some people just thrive on hard work.

ONE SHIFT ENOUGH

Ron Matthews, leading point-getter among Victoria defencemen, took only one shift on the ice Wednesday night. It took just that "charley-horse" in his right thigh, received in practice Tuesday, was still too painful for a useful effort and he sat it out the rest of the way.

Without Matthews for 58 minutes, Jack Bionda, Pete Wright and Jim Hay each had to pack an extra load on defence and they responded with what was probably their best effort of the season.

They had the Spokane forwards off balance most of the time and goalie Marcel Pelletier had to stop only a few dangerous shots as he made 27 saves on the way to his first shutout of the campaign.

BIONDA STARRY

Bionda, just starting to hit real stride, was a standout. The big guy tossed enough body checks to keep the Comets worried, broke up several attacks with his sweeping stick, started several good rushes and injected a bit of excitement in a somewhat dull game by getting into a couple of scuffles.

He capped his night's work by collecting his second goal of the season early in the third period, blasting a bouncing slap-shot past Bentley to boost the Cougar margin to 3-0 early in the third period.

Smooth Art Jones got the Cats out in front in the opening session and finished off the scoring with his 17th goal with seven minutes remaining in the final session.

George Ford connected for the Cats in the second period and little Arnie Schmutz chipped in with three assists.

DOWN TO BUSINESS

Against a club which plays spoiling hockey, the Cougars were unable to keep rolling at top speed and settled down to play businesslike hockey. Putting a solid effort into checking, they methodically outplayed the Comets in every period and fired a total of 40 shots at Bentley, including 15 in the final 20 minutes.

It added up to an unspectacular game but at least the result was pleasing for manager-coach Hal Laycoe and team-owner Jim Piggett, who was getting his first look at the Cats on Victoria ice.

"It's always good to win," said Hal. "But the one we really want is the one against Seattle. We've got a couple of scores to settle in that one."

AL NICHOLSON

CATS GET BLACKBURN

Scenery Switch May Help Nick

Al Nicholson is heading for Winnipeg today hoping a change of scenery will help him regain his scoring touch.

Angular Al, who collected 36 goals and 51 assists to tie a Victoria point record last season, has been assigned to the Warriors by Boston Bruins, the National Hockey League club which owns his contract.

Unable to get untracked during the current Western Hockey League campaign, Nicholson had managed only five goals and 11 assists in 27 games. He sat out a game for the second time this season at Memorial Arena Wednesday night as the Cougars clobbered Spokane Comets, 4-0.

Due to arrive today as a replacement for Nicholson is 22-year-old Don Blackburn, who broke into professional hockey with the Cats last season.

O.C. RUGBY

LONDON (Reuters)—Results of Wednesday's rugby union county championship matches were: Dorset and Wiltshire 22, Oxfordshire 11. Eastern Counties 3, Hampshire 6. Hertfordshire 10, Sussex 6. Surrey 5, Middlesex 6.

BEES KEEP SHEPARD

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Larry Shepard will guide the pennant-holding Salt Lake City Bees in the Pacific Coast League again next year. He has been signed for another term as manager.

CRACKING WHIP

Blackburn should be in action against Seattle Totems at Memorial Arena Saturday night and Nicholson is expected to join the Warriors in time for a Friday night tussle with Edmonton.

The move was part of a whip-cracking program started by Winnipeg owner Jack Perrin, who has warned that other changes will follow unless the Warriors snap out of a long slump, which may have ended when they whipped Edmonton 5-1 Wednesday night.

Leading Prospect, But Unsigned Yet

TORONTO (CP)—Managing director Lew Hayman of Toronto Argonauts said Wednesday night he hopes to announce by the weekend the signing of an assistant coach to his Big Four club.

Commenting on a report that former Argo quarterback Nobby Wirkowski will return next season as backfield coach, he said:

"Wirkowski is not signed yet. I'm not denying that he is not a leading candidate, but I haven't heard from Lou Agase since I gave him a list of suggested candidates for one of the assistant coaching jobs."

Agase, new head coach from Michigan State University, said last week he would seek as one of his two assistant coaches someone with experience in Canadian football.

Hayman said Al Bruno of London Lords, and Harvey Johnson, former coach of Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen, were also being considered for assistant coaching jobs. The clubs play in the Ontario Rugby Football Union.

Wirkowski was with the Argos when they last won the Grey Cup in 1952. He has also played for Hamilton Tiger-Cats. Now ranked as a non-import, he has been playing with Calgary Stampeders of the Western Interprovincial Football Union for the last few seasons.

Renegading Rustlers Will Pay Way In Now

EDMONTON (CP)—The Moscow Selects hockey club will play an all-star club from the southern Alberta intermediate Big Six Hockey League when they appear in Calgary Feb. 3.

Red Deer Rustlers of the Central Alberta League—originally scheduled to meet the Russians—announced Tuesday they would not play because they could not reach a financial agreement with the promoters of the game.

John Watson, president of the Alberta Amateur Hockey Association, announced the new arrangements Wednesday night.

The Selects will play Edmonton Oil Kings, also of the Central Alberta League, when they appear here Jan. 29.

Whip Did Trick

Jack Perrin has cracked the whip and Winnipeg Warriors are jumping.

Perrin, owner of the Winnipeg entry in the Western Hockey League, warned the Warriors that there would be a lot of changes made unless they broke out of a long slump that had them wallowing in the WHL cellar.

Threats by Perrin, who started his program by acquiring Al Nicholson from Victoria, have already produced startling effects, for at least one night.

HAVE COMPANY

Warriors turned on the heat on home ice Wednesday night and walloped Edmonton Flyers 5-1. One victory wasn't enough to get the Winnipeggers completely out of the basement, but at least they have company today. They share last place with Spokane Comets, who were whipped by the Cougars Wednesday.

In another tussle Wednesday, Vancouver Canucks needed a bit of luck to add a point to their league lead. Outplayed soundly most of the way at Calgary, Canucks managed only 17 shots on goal and needed a crazy bouncing blue-line shot by defenceman Larry Cahen in the third period to pull out a 3-3 tie against the hard-skating Stampeders.

FINNEY GETS 20TH

Norm Johnson celebrated his return to the WHL from Buffalo of the American League by scoring once and assisting on two of the Calgary tallies. Sid Finney and Ron Leopold also scored for the Stampeders. Finney's tally was his 20th of the season, tops in the circuit.

Playing before 4,700 fans, Canucks appeared on their way to a top-sided defeat as Calgary grabbed a 2-0 lead.

Colville's two goals pulled them even but Finney connected in the final minute of the second session to make it 3-2 and set the stage for Cahen's marker.

About 2,000 fans watched the rejuvenated Warriors at Winnipeg. Barry Ross set the victory pace with two goals and Bill Johansen, Gordie Redahl and Bill Folk each added one tally.

Roger Dejordy scored the lone Edmonton tally.

Packer Puncher Suspended Again

KELOWNA (CP)—Russ Kowalchuk of Kelowna Packers has been suspended for two games for deliberately injuring Penticton Vs' player Yogi Kraiger.

The altercation occurred in an Okanagan Senior Hockey League game here Saturday night when Kowalchuk allegedly punched Kraiger in the nose.

Earlier in the season Kowalchuk was suspended for a similar offence against Ted Lebodia of Kamloops Chiefs.

Indians Face AHL All-Stars

The league-leading Springfield Indians face a team of players selected from the other six teams of the American Hockey League in the sixth annual AHL all-star game to be held at Springfield.

Proceeds from the contest will go to the player pension and insurance fund.

Springfield tuned up for the tilt with a 5-2 trouncing of the Hershey Bears at Hershey in Wednesday's only AHL game.

The Indians poured three goals past Bobby Perreault in the first period, and added single tallies in the second and third stanzas.

Could Be Canada's Year At '60 Winter Olympics

KITCHENER, Ont. (CP)—Canada could have its greatest winter Olympic triumph in the 1960 renewal at Squaw Valley, Calif., predicts the general manager of the Dominion's Olympic team.

Frank J. Shaughnessy, Jr., of Montreal, who heads the Canadian contingent, feels that Canada may win as many as four gold medals.

The best Canada has ever done before is two gold medals in the 1954 Olympics at St. Moritz when figure skater Barbara Ann Scott and the PCAP hockey team both finished on top.

"I really think this is our year," said Shaughnessy. Of the sisters he said:

"Barbara Wagner and Bob Paul of Toronto have been world pairs champions for three years. They have been working hard and are said to be skating better than ever. We also have a most capable pair in Otto and Maria Jelinek of Oakville, Ont., who are capable of winning a medal in the men's events Don Jackson of Oshawa, one of the most colorful skaters to appear in recent years, can very easily be our most pleasant surprise. He was second in the world event last year."

Shaughnessy said skier Anne Heggtveit of Ottawa, who won a world title on the continent last winter, is among the world's top three and "with a little luck could win one or two gold medals."

In hockey he saw Russia, Czechoslovakia, Sweden and the United States as strong rivals for Canada.

"But I have a feeling my favorite Dutchmen (Canada's entry from Kitchener) will win this time," he said.

Andy Must Explain 'Brutality' Charges

Bathgate Blasts Spearing Tactics; May Be Disciplined By Campbell

MONTREAL (CP) — Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League, said today he plans to have a talk with Andy Bathgate to determine whether disciplinary action is necessary for a magazine article published under the name of the all-star right-winger.

"I want to find out Bathgate's degree of participation and whether a breach of contract is involved for which he could be disciplined," said Campbell in a telephone interview.

Bathgate launched the controversy with a ghost-written article in the current edition of mass-circulation magazine True.

The article charges "unchecked brutality" exists in the NHL. The Ranger player dwells on the illegal art of spearing using a hockey stick as a spear on an opposing player.

In this connection, he singles out particularly the two top defencemen of the NHL champion Montreal Canadiens—Doug Harvey and Tom Johnson.

This brought a quick rejoinder Wednesday from Montreal coach Hector (Toe) Blake who described Bathgate's charges as "sour grapes," adding that the Ranger player himself "is guilty of spearing as often as anyone else in the league."

In New York, Bathgate said that in writing the article "all I wanted to do was point out the danger of spearing." He hadn't wanted to create a ruckus.

ROGUES GALLERY

The article is accompanied by pictures of six NHL players who are called "Rogues" by Bathgate.

The players and the descriptions Bathgate gives them: Ted Lindsay, Chicago Black Hawks, "seldom drops his stick in a fight."

Johnson, Canadiens, "one of the five notorious spearing specialists in the NHL."

Harvey, Canadiens, "lucky he doesn't have a spearing death on his conscience."

Fern Flaman, Boston Bruins, "he's had too many accidents to believe."

Gordie Howe, Detroit Red Wings, "meanest player in the league; uses all the tricks."

Lou Fontinato, Rangers, "likes to use the stick but uses his fists in a real fight."

Bathgate recounts a game in Madison Square Garden between the Rangers and Canadiens in which he said Harvey shoved his stick into Red Sullivan's stomach.

"It looked like Harvey was using a fixed bayonet," he says.

Bathgate says Harvey's stick dug in so deeply that it severed an artery in the Ranger captain's spleen.

In Montreal, coach Blake and Harvey admitted Canadiens resorted to spearing at isolated times but stressed it was strictly for defensive purposes.

Both said it was sometimes necessary to defend against an illegal play pattern used often by Rangers.

"They like to skate into our zone against the defence and drop the puck for a teammate following right behind," Blake said. "Then they skate into our defenceman, knocking him out of the play illegally through interference."

Commenting on Bathgate's account of the Harvey-Sullivan incident, Harvey said:

"We played back-to-back games against New York and I had to warn Sullivan four times in the two nights about skating interference. Then I had to stand my ground, of course."

SPLIT DECISION

TOKYO (AP) — Leo Espinosa, 123, the Orient bantamweight champion from the Philippines, Wednesday night won a split decision over Yukio Katsumata, 124, Japan's leading featherweight, in a non-title 10-round bout.

THEY'LL NEVER FORGET THAT FIRST POOL FORM

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (Reuters) — Two men here are recovering from the nightmare of filling in their first soccer pool form — which would have won them £264,000 — only to find they had forgotten to mail it.

For three days they made plans on how they were going to spend their fortune, while their telegram asking for confirmation of their win was reported to have thrown a big English firm running the competition into a panic as they tried to trace the winning coupon.

The competition is based on guessing the correct results of English professional soccer games.

On the third day, Jack Bell, a clerk in the same office as fellow "winner" Jack McPherson, was sorting through the files on his desk when he found the familiar envelope.

Leaders Keeping Watch on Gorge

TIME OUT!

"Sure, we couldn't possibly use all the players we've signed... but you notice the other coaches are complaining they can't find tall players!"

Leaders in the Victoria and District Soccer League race should be feeling the hot breath of the Gorge Hotelmen down the backs of their necks any time now.

After a slow start this season, the Gorge team has come on with a rush and now shares fourth spot, only five points behind pace-setting Ladysmith and with a game in hand.

Gorge plays Victoria Wests in the only game Saturday at Royal Athletic Park to start the final weekend of soccer in the city before a three-week layoff for the annual Jackson Cup competition.

Ladysmith plays Scottish at Heywood Sunday in a feature game. Brodies meet Esquimalt at Central, Saanich Thistles clash with Kickers at Reynolds, and cellar-dwelling Navy hosts Evcoos at Naden.

All games start at 2 p.m.

Gutoski Bows To Taylor Rink

The front-running rinks skipped by Gar Taylor and Steve Hayhurst continued their unbeaten ways in Consols playdowns at Victoria Curling Club Wednesday night.

Each came up with their fourth straight triumph in the 10-rink round-robin tourney to pick four teams for the Island semi-finals.

Taylor scored the big surprise, defeating Tony Gutoski's defending champions 9-8 while Hayhurst put down Bob McIntosh's rink 17-15.

Jim Dickson evened his record at 2-2 with a 14-6 victory over cellar-dwelling Jack Craig and Larry Marshall's rink won 12-8 over Gerry Walls' crew.

Taylor opened up a 5-0 lead early in the game but Gutoski, 1958 provincial representative in the Brier, evened the count on the eighth end. Taylor, quickly regained command and was three up coming home.

Hayhurst led McIntosh all the way in a high-scoring contest, 8-1, after three ends, 14-7 after eight, and 17-14 coming home.

Next games will be played Sunday when Gutoski takes on Wes Young, Taylor plays Gordie Moore, McIntosh meets Dickson, and Craig faces Marshall.

Torquay Bounced In Second Round

LONDON (Reuters) — Gillingham defeated Torquay United 2-1 in their Football Association Cup second-round replay at Torquay Wednesday.

The winners play at home to Swansea Town in the third round.

Other results in second round replays: Bradford City 2, Rochdale 1 (winners home to Everton); Crystal Palace 3, Margate 1 (winners away to Scunthorpe United); Crewe Alexandra 2, Stockport County 0 (winners home to Workington).

Wings' Old Pros Pay Off Again

As long as Terry Sawchuk and Gordie Howe are their old starry selves, Detroit Red Wings will be a tough team to beat.

Sawchuk gained his fourth shutout of the National Hockey League season Wednesday night as Detroit defeated Chicago Black Hawks 2-0.

Howe scored the only goal Red Wings needed when he whipped a 20-foot shot past Glenn Hall in the first period. It was the magnificent right-winger's 15th goal of the season and the 433rd of his NHL career.

Victory brought Detroit to within one point of second place Toronto Maple Leafs, who trail Montreal Canadiens by eight.

TIGHT SCRAMBLE

Sawchuk blocked 26 Chicago shots as he edged closer to Montreal's Jacques Plante and Toronto's Johnny Bower in one of the tightest Vezina Trophy races the league has seen in several years.

Wings have not been defeated in the three games Sawchuk has played since recovering from leg pains. They lost all three games in which he was out of the lineup.

Both Detroit goals came while Hawks were short-handed.

Durrelle's Retirement Shuffles Ring Ratings

NEW YORK (AP) — Lightweight champion Joe Brown and NBA middleweight king Gene Fullmer today were named to share fighter-of-the-month honors by Ring Magazine for their successful title defenses.

Brown, of New Orleans, stopped England's Dave Charnley on a sixth-round technical knockout. Fullmer, of West Jordan, Utah, won a unanimous decision in 15 round over Spider Webb of Chicago.

The monthly ratings showed changes in almost every division.

In the light-heavyweight class, the retirement of Yvon Durrelle of Bai Ste. Anne, N.B., and Jesse Bowdry's loss to Henry Hank of Detroit resulted in several shifts. Bowdry, of St. Louis, fell to fifth from fourth. Mike Holt of South Africa was promoted to third from fifth and Von Clay of Philadelphia jumped to fourth from sixth. Hank, a middleweight, leaped to sixth from ninth among the 160-pounders.

Amalgamation Trend Under Fire in Oak Bay

Municipal Candidates Hold Forum

A warning of "creeping amalgamation" in Oak Bay was sounded by Councillor Allan Cox at a meeting of candidates for the municipal council elections next Thursday.

"During my year on the council my eyes have been opened to the pressure groups beseeching us to do away with the most desirable features of our municipality," he told a meeting of some 75 persons in Oak Bay Junior High School.

"It is what I call creeping amalgamation."

Coun. Cox, who is running for reelection for a two-year term, urged preservation of Oak Bay's autonomy and added:

"We can lose it far short of actual amalgamation."

SCHOOL COSTS HIT

Reeve George Murdoch also warned of a tendency towards greater centralization.

"An ever-present worry to your council is the pressure being exerted by one group or another towards erosion of local government."

"We already have a concrete example of this in a unified school board. Every year since this larger board was instituted, the share of its costs to our taxpayers has risen by from $30,000 to $60,000 over the previous year."

"And 1960 will be no excep-

COUN. GEOFFREY ELLIS
... pay the reeve

PERCY NOEL
... improve Uplands

tion, unless the amount is higher."

FAMILY COURT "BURDEN"

Reeve Murdoch said no one municipal district should be required to pay for any service which is the responsibility of another district.

"The institution of a central Family and Juvenile Court to serve the four districts, shared on a per capita basis, is another instance of an attempt to pass a part of the burden from the shoulders of one group of taxpayers to those of another district."

"He said Oak Bay agreed that there should be one competent judge and clerical staff to handle all cases and is prepared to share in the cost "on a usage basis in our own court."

"The attorney-general has agreed in principle with us on this point."

"NOT ONE CENT"

Reeve Murdoch refuted a statement that Oak Bay is not prepared to co-operate with its neighbors, adding that he had tried to co-operate with other municipalities on "all matters of mutual advantage."

"I stand on my record," he said. "I am prepared to give you the same sort of service I have given for the past 14 years and I don't want one cent of remuneration."

The six candidates for council and the two for the reeveship expressed divergent views on the controversial remuneration bylaw, which has been tabled for the incoming council.

Numerically the candidates were five to three in favor of remuneration.

Geoffrey Ellis, who is contesting the reeveship, Gordon Elworthy, Fred Hawes, James Maltby and Percy Noel spoke in favor. Reeve Murdoch, Coun. Cox and new candidate Roger Peachey were solidly opposed.

"There is no reason why the reeve and councillors should not be reimbursed for all the work they do," said Coun. Ellis. "They have to neglect their own businesses... and business nowadays has become a good deal more of a rat race than it was."

Mr. Murdoch's business must have suffered from the 700 hours he put in on the council this year.

This drew a protest from Reeve Murdoch.

"Council meetings are held at night and I don't make a habit of conducting my business at night. I arrange my hours according to the demands and I enjoy being reeve. It gives me something money can't buy—the making of friendships among people in all walks of life."

CUT BORROWING

All candidates for council seemed in agreement that the council should cut out the borrowing of money for local improvements.

Coun. Gordon Elworthy said the net debt in Oak Bay at the end of 1958 was $198 per person.

"You may call this a contingent liability—a popular phrase these days—but what is a contingent liability? The taxpayer that's all."

"Oak Bay used to have a tradition never to spend what we didn't have. In the last four years we have been spending a lot more than we have."

Coun. Fred Hawes, a six-year veteran of the council, also opposed further borrowing.

James Maltby, who served on council from 1953 to 1956, is seeking a two-year term with a pledge to spend more money on road maintenance.

PARK BACKED

Percy Noel, running for a two-year term on the council, urged improvement of Uplands Park mainly for safety's sake.

"I have no platform," he said, "but I have lived here 26 years and for 35 years I have had more or less responsible positions with fairly successful firms."

"I take no stand on fluoridation. That is for the public to decide."

Roger Peachey, former coordinator of civil defence in Victoria, urged development of Uplands Park according to the economic needs of the municipality.

Oak Bay voters go to the polls Dec. 17 when they will also vote on the fluoridation issue.

South Africa's Color Bar Hits Tour of Ballet

LONDON (Reuters)—Labor party MPs Wednesday attacked the Royal Ballet Company's forthcoming visit to South Africa because racial discrimination allegedly prevented one dancer from participating.

South African Johaar Mosavali, who is of Malayan descent, will not accompany the troupe.

Labor Leader Hugh Gaitskill said he deplored "the introduction of racial discrimination into art."

Home Secretary A. A. Butler said he did not think the government should interfere because the company took the decision without official inter-

'BARBER JAKE' SUES TOUHY FOR $3 MILLION

CHICAGO (AP)—Roger Touhy, prohibition era gangster released from prison last month, was sued Wednesday for $3,000,000 by the man he was convicted of kidnapping.

John "Jake the Barber" Factor, now a Beverly Hills, Calif., real estate man, based his suit on Touhy's biography, "The Stolen Years."

Named defendants in addition to Touhy are Ray Brennan, Chicago Sun-Times reporter and co-author with Touhy; the publisher, the printer and four Chicago sales outlets.

Stainless Steel Jet to Beat Heat

LONDON (Reuters)—A stainless steel, supersonic research plane capable of flying at more than 1,500 miles an hour is nearing completion by Bristol Aircraft Limited.

Details of the plan, the Bristol Type 188, were released Wednesday night.

Entirely new techniques had to be evolved in building the plane in welded stainless steel to meet the problems of heat at high speeds.

Among the innovations is a refrigeration system to cool the cockpit and keep instruments down to reasonable working temperatures.

The T-188, being built at the order of the ministry of aviation is powered by two de Havilland Gyron Junior DJG-10 turbojet engines.

They are in wing nacelles extending far beyond the leading and trailing edges.

'World Like a Robot In Need of a Soul'

OTTAWA (UPI)—The world has become a "robot" in urgent need of a soul, Governor-General George Vanier said today.

In his first major speech since becoming the Queen's representative in this country, Vanier told the Canadian Club that "staggering" scientific achievements of recent years had not been matched by corresponding progress in man's spiritual approach to new problems.

"Our world has become a sort of robot with a gigantic body rather imbalanced and out of hand, undisciplined in movement and on its way at a terrific pace," he said.

FRIDAY MEETINGS

Victoria Lions Club, noon, Empress Hotel. Rev. A. Calder will speak on "San Quentin Prison."

"Can we control it if we do not succeed in giving it a spirit based on love and faith?" he added.

Faith in God and neighborly love were the essentials of today, the Governor-General said. There was not much hope, he added, if new achievements and discoveries were not channelled toward good will and peace.

The luncheon meeting was jammed for the governor-general's speaking debut. His audience included Prime Minister Diefenbaker.

Vanier named spirit as one of three subjects that would interest him particularly in his new office. He said the others were national unity and youth. Canada's geography requires a conscious effort by every citizen to build the great nation which destiny offered, he said.

PROMOTED to rank of major is Victoriz native, Dr. John R. LeHuquet, 32, senior medical officer at the Canadian Joint Air Training Centre, Rivers, Man. His wife is former Mary Bowkett, also a Victorizian.

Capital punishment was abolished in Holland in 1870, but in practice had been discontinued many years previously.

TV Show Sparks Lawsuit

CHICAGO (UPI)—Suits totalling $20,000,000 have been filed by Chicago industrialist Titus Haffa on charges he was libelled in the St. Valentine's Day massacre presentation on CBS-TV's "Playhouse 90."

A Haffa spokesman said Wednesday a $10,000,000 suit was filed in U.S. district court because of "an intolerable six to seven-year delay in getting a trial in the Cook County courts."

Haffa, last Sept. 24, had sued the Columbia Broadcasting System, CBS Television and eight sponsors for an equal sum.

He objected to a headline reading "Titus Haffa gets two years" shown during the program, which his lawyers said defamed him and unnecessarily exposed him to public embarrassment.

Seven members of the Bugs Moran gang were gunned down in Chicago in the 1929 St. Valentine's Day massacre depicted on the show.

FEW KNOW IT IN SAANICH

Fire Phone Wrong Number?

CHIEF JOSEPH LAW

According to fire department estimates, hardly a resident of Saanich knows his fire phone number.

Chief Joseph Law remarked Wednesday: "Nearly all our calls come through the fire alarm operator at the telephone company after people with a fire or other emergency have dialled 'O' on their phones."

Such a system, although sooner or later effective, does entail a time lapse, resulting in a delay in getting fire-fighting or rescue equipment to where it is needed and causing extra work for the telephone operator who may have to spend time tracing a hurried call.

Unnecessary delay can be avoided by knowledge of the Saanich alarm telephone number—EV 3-1166—which applies to Central Saanich, North Saanich, Colwood, Langford, View Royal and Sidney in a mutual alarm hookup.

VICTORIA BETTER
Some 85 per cent of all emergency calls are turned in to the appropriate service by way of the phone company's operator, according to a spokes-man for B.C. Telephone.

In Victoria city, however, it is estimated only about 40 per cent of fire alarms are routed through the telephone company.

It is noted that the person directly involved rarely makes the call himself when the fire department does get the original call.

"It is usually a neighbor," Victoria alarm room operator said.

Chief Law said the situation could be given as an example of the need for a single all-emergency telephone number for the entire Greater Victoria area.

TRAFFIC FINES

Net Profit On Drugs Here 6½%

TORONTO (CP)—The average net profit for the Canadian drug industry last year was 6½ per cent on the sales dollar, a director of the Canadian Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association said Wednesday night.

Ralph B. Thompson, who also is president of the drug firm of Pitman-Moore Limited, added on a television program that he would "like to be the first to support an investigation into drug prices in Canada."

Appearing with him was Jules Gilbert, president of a Toronto drug supply firm who said Wednesday that high markups such as reported recently by a United States Senate subcommittee are not uncommon in Canada.

Mr. Thompson suggested a broader look is needed into the cost of producing drugs.

A lot of money from profits—about 12 per cent in his own company—was put into research.

CEREMONY GOES WITH BANG

Flying Rocks Signal Start On Law Courts

Victoria's long-awaited courthouse — a spacious five-storey building with two storeys below ground — moved into the construction stage Wednesday.

Ground-breaking ceremonies on the site on the north side of Burdett, near Blanshard, signalled a start on the modern flat-roofed building which will cost over $2,000,000 including landscaping.

It is expected construction will take at least 18 months.

Total floor space will be 140,000 square feet of which 37,000 feet will be used in the basement parking area.

The five floors will be serviced by three elevators — two passenger and one utility.

Overall color of the new courthouse (renamed Victoria Law Courts) will be russet or reddish brown relieved by white columns. Thin vertical strips of reinforced concrete will surround the windows and brick panels.

The public works department is still collecting brick samples but it is indicated that russet or reddish-brown bricks will be chosen.

The flat roof was originally intended as a sightseeing point for tourists, but a public works official said today:

LOVER'S LEAP

"I am not sure if we want people going up there unsupervised. We wouldn't want the law courts to become a thing in the nature of a lover's leap."

Tenders for the basement portion of the building will be called in mid-February. The underground portion will be strong enough to support 20 storeys, although there are no thoughts of going this high.

The strength is intended to make the basement bomb-proof.

Commonwealth Construction Company, the lowest of five bidders, has the $92,665 contract on excavation and will take out something like 35,000 cubic yards of rock and earth.

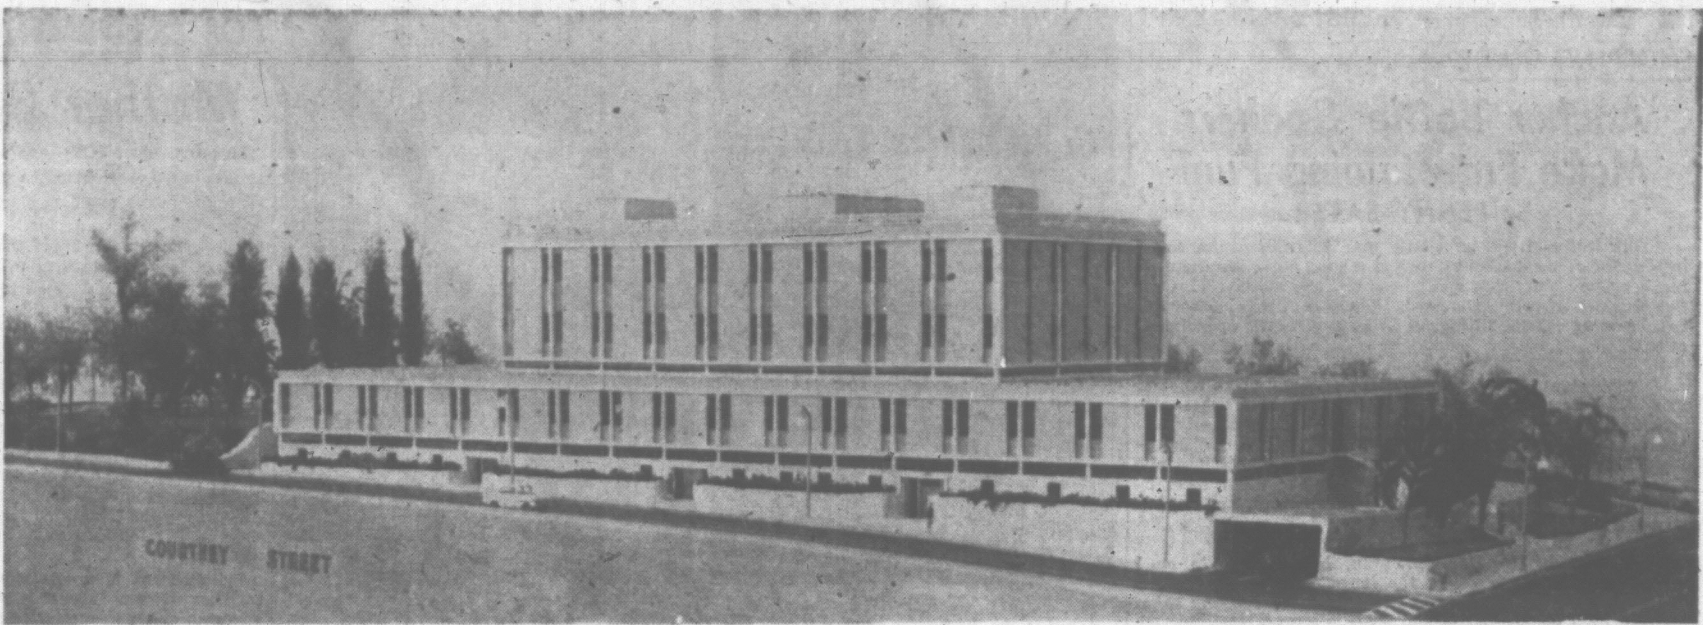

ROAD PROJECT

This will be moved to Government House for a new road system to be built through the grounds, including access to Richardson Street, and a new parking lot.

Public Works Minister W. N. Chant, wearing a construction worker's helmet, pushed a plunger to fire the blast that signalled start of excavation—and it nearly ended in disaster.

Pieces of rock and earth flew high and wide and one three-pound section of shale sailed over the heads of the crowd, smashing into the ground on the right of the speakers' platform.

Archbishop Harold Sexton, who dedicated the property,

This is how Victoria's new law courts will look from Courtney Street, with entrance to underground parking lot on right.

ANGLE VIEW of new law courts, expected to be completed in 1961, shows stately main entrance facing Burdett and raised stairways on Blanshard. Total floor space will be 140,000 square feet.

New B.C. Museum Promised in 1961

The B.C. government is going to build a new museum and archives in Victoria and will assist financially in construction of a new civic auditorium, Premier Bennett promised Wednesday.

During ground-breaking ceremonies for the new Victoria law courts, the premier said the museum and archives project will follow completion of the courts in 1961.

His promise appeared to warm the chilly crowd of officials and members of the public attending the ceremony. It is expected the museum and archives will be built on the large parking lot now used by civil servants between the Douglas Building and the Empress Hotel.

"This is undoubtedly the ideal site," commented Wilson Duff, government curator of anthropology, today.

Premier Bennett said he hoped the museum and archives would be built close to the Legislative Buildings and would be of a conforming architectural style.

He described Premier W. A. C. Bennett's indication that the provincial government will be willing to help finance the project once the new courthouse is completed as "really wonderful news."

READY FOR '62

Mayor Urges Auditorium Action Now

Mayor Percy Scurrell today said the city should begin planning a civic auditorium immediately so that it could be ready for the 1962 tourist bonanza.

He described Premier W. A. C. Bennett's indication that the provincial government will be willing to help finance the project once the new courthouse is completed as "really wonderful news."

"His statement is of tremendous importance and a great encouragement to us."

SHARE WITH SEATTLE

The mayor said it should spur planning of the auditorium which "we ought to figure on having by 1962 when the world's fair is held in Seattle."

"We will have a tremendous opportunity of getting a large share of the millions of people that will visit Seattle that year if we are prepared. We've got to start planning an auditorium right now."

Mayor Scurrell also said he hoped that provincial grants would help swing the three outlying municipalities behind a Greater Victoria auditorium.

He is suffering from a recurring heart condition. Mr. O'Neill, a staff announcer at radio station CJVI, served on council in 1956 and resigned a year later due to ill health.

He entered hospital Nov. 30.

Neglecting to unload his rifle before stepping into a game warden's car cost Wesley L. Guille, 814 Anderson, a fine of $25 and $3 costs in Colwood RCMP court Wednesday.

Guille was charged with having a loaded rifle in a car, an offence under the Game Act.

Maple Bay Man Found Not Guilty Of Perjury Charge

A Maple Bay man charged with perjury involving an incident in August, 1957, was found not guilty after a trial in city police court Wednesday.

The Crown alleged Dieter Karl Max Simon did not tell the truth when called to give testimony in a case against William Louis Todd, who was charged with causing a disturbance by shouting and swearing at a Gladstone home.

The charge was dismissed in city court last Sept. 4.

Simon was asked if he knew the complainant, Stanley A. G. Crittenden, 3309 Quadra, the Crown alleged, and according to the court record had replied, "I do not know that man."

Court was told Simon was then employed by Crittenden. The defence held that Simon referred to Todd, not Crittenden, when he made his reply, and this was accepted by Magistrate William Ostler, who dismissed the charge of perjury.

The charge against Todd also was dismissed in the earlier trial.

Shorter Route, Better Link Urged for Mill Bay Ferry

A shorter route for the Mill Bay-Brentwood ferry to permit a better connection with the new government ferry at Sidney will be suggested to the highways department by Duncan-Cowichan Chamber of Commerce.

The chamber will recommend that consideration be given to docking the Mill Bay ferry at Deep Cove rather than Brentwood, thus establishing a closer link with Sidney and cutting several miles off the present drive from Brentwood.

It will be pointed out that the majority of cars using the Mill Bay ferry in future will be travelling to Sidney. Chamber members said that as the present service exists, it is just as fast to drive over the Malahat to Sidney as it is to take the ferry to Brentwood and drive from there.

50-MPH Storm Heads for City

Big Blow Friday Morning

Easterly winds of 40 miles per hour with gusts to 50 miles, will howl over Victoria Friday morning, weatherman William Macle predicted today.

"Most of our storms this winter have passed to the north of us," he said, "but one on its way now is farther south than the others have been, and may give us the full treatment."

Gale warnings have been issued for all B.C. coastal waters for the next 24 hours.

RAIN EXPECTED

In Victoria winds are expected to be southwesterly at 15 miles per hour late this afternoon, then to change to easterly, reaching 25 miles per hour by midnight and climbing to a peak of 40 miles Friday morning.

Friday afternoon the wind will veer to southwesterly at 30 miles.

Rain is expected early Friday morning, but there will be partial clearing in the afternoon. Temperatures will range between 40 and 47 degrees.

Movie Admission One Can of Food For Hamper Show

One or more cans of food will be the novel admission charged at an Odeon Movie Club show Saturday morning.

It will be sponsored by the 700 Block Yates Association in aid of the Free Food Stall Christmas hamper drive.

The program will feature cartoons and a comedy with the Three Stooges. Doors will open at 10.30 a.m.

A CHRISTMAS CARTOON

Watch for 'Grinch' In Friday's Times

A delightful fantasy for the Christmas season will begin in Friday's Times.

It is a cartoon strip entitled "How the Grinch Stole Christmas."

It is the work of the man known as "Dr. Seuss," the noted author of children's books and inventor of the cartoon character Gerald McBoing-Boing.

Without giving away the story of his strip about the Grinch, it has some of the overtones of Dickens' famous "Christmas Carol."

Dr. Seuss isn't the real name of the author. But he used it when he was cartooning for Life and the New Yorker when studying to be a dignified professor of English, a target he never achieved. He became sidetracked into advertising then Hollywood and to writing children's books.

Watch Friday's paper for the first instalment of the "Grinch."

CRANBERRIES SAFE HERE

Canadians can eat cranberry sauce with their holiday turkeys in the knowledge the berries are perfectly safe.

Health department officials at Ottawa said today their investigation of cranberries, both fresh and canned, has been completed, and "there is no evidence of any poison on the cranberries on the market today."

The investigation was launched after U.S. Food and Drug officials issued a public warning that some cranberries were coated with a poisonous woodkiller called aminotriazole.

B.C. Buys Indian Heirlooms

The provincial government has arranged to pay $1,000 to famed Indian carver and Kwakiutl Chief Mungo Martin for his family collection of masks and other ceremonial equipment, it was learned today.

Education Minister Leslie Peterson will accept the historic items for the provincial museum at a public ceremony in Thunderbird Park at 3 p.m. Friday.

The collection was to have gone to Mungo's only son David, who was drowned in a September fishing accident. Indian custom required that the collection be disposed of following David's death.

David worked with his father at Thunderbird Park between 1952 and 1957, sharing in the creation of the world's tallest totem pole erected by public subscription, under Victoria Daily Times sponsorship, in Beacon Hill Park. In 1957, David returned to his old occupation as a fisherman.

The collection includes 14 masks, several rattles, whistles and drums, costumes and a painted screen. Some items are old beyond memory. There are sets of cannibal spirit masks and animal masks, the latter being often used in the family's hereditary "Dance of the Animals."

Driver Who Fleed Pays Fine of $50

Motorist John Hensen, 3715 Tufficum, who was chased by a highway patrol car from Luxton to Colwood at speeds up to 70 miles an hour, was fined $50 and $5 costs in Colwood RCMP court Wednesday for careless driving.

Police said Hensen, who originally pleaded not guilty to the charge and later changed his plea to guilty, drove through three stop signs without stopping.

The court recommended Hensen be given a new driving test by Motor Vehicles Branch.

Tugs Try To Free U.S. Ship

Efforts were scheduled for this afternoon to re-float the 70-foot United States freighter Superior, which went aground at about 4 a.m. at Bates Beach resort area, five miles north of Courtenay.

The tug Sea Swell of Campbell River, an RCAF crash boat from Comox, and John Humphries' self-propelled barge from Campbell River answered its distress call.

According to reports, the vessel was left high and dry when the tide dropped, and the three crewmen aboard were able to walk ashore and find shelter.

The vessel called for help well before 5 o'clock, but it was not found until 8 a.m. First reports had indicated it was close to Campbell River.

No More Bets City Bookmaker Promises Court

Johnson Street storekeeper Arthur Kay, 1458 Clifford, fined $500 in city police court today for bookmaking, promised through counsel to leave horseshoe betting alone.

It was Kay's third conviction since 1954 for keeping premises at 707 Johnson to record bets, when he was fined $300. In 1957 he was fined $400.

ASK THE TIMES

Q. Could you please tell me how many registered curlers there are in Canada at the present time? D.R.

A. The Dominion Curling Association has not received reports from various provincial bodies so figures this year are not available. Last year, however, 168,878 men were registered with the DCA. This figure does not include school-boy curlers (an estimated 35,000). Women are casual curlers.

Q. Where are the Aka Hills? S.C.

A. They are in a tract of country, difficult of access, on the northeast frontier of India, occupied by an independent tribe called the Akas.

Q. Could you kindly tell me what the Latin motto is: Vincit, qui patitur? It is my old school motto, 1902, in England. A. It means: He that can endure, overcometh.

Anchor Bottle Openers Make Entertaining Fun!

By PENNY SAVER

Your husband will be a busy man this Christmas, carrying out the many pleasant duties of a good host. Why not get him a bottle opener that will "dress up" any sideboard? Ones I've seen are shaped like anchors. Shank is of rich leather and has gleaming chrome fittings at either end. Bottle openers sell at $3.95.

Evening sweaters can be used in so many ways whether it is with velvet evening skirts, hostess pants or a short crisp taffeta skirt. Ones I saw this week were exceptionally low priced at $6.95.

Coming in white or black all have scoop necklines and short sleeves. Made of fine banlon you can wash them by hand over and over again. Necklines are trimmed in rhinestones and pearls.

If you're looking for something heavier to slip on I suggest you take a peek at the large assortment of white bulky knit cardigans I saw. These are of time-saving orlon and are high on the list of the teen-age crowd. Many of the cardigans have traditional cable twist trim. Prices range from $5.95 to $10.95.

Teen-agers would adore the fluffy white head stoles that are now selling at $2.95. Shaped to fit cozily over the head, stoles have long, long ends to whirl gracefully around the shoulders! Stoles are in a dainty raised pattern with silver metallic thread running through them. They are all generously fringed and, being of nylon, are as light as a feather!

Mandarin pyjamas for lounging can now be bought for as low as $4.88. Quilted tops have simple mandarin collars and are ornate with dragons and other eastern motifs. Silver and gold rick-rack braid trim edges of jacket and sleeves.

Jackets come in backgrounds of white, melon or turquoise. Pants are black and, although of nylon, give a look of satin.

For names of stores where these can be found phone Penny at EV 2-3131.

"Instead of killing myself doing my Christmas shopping all in one day I'm going to do it a little at a time, like this."

Giving Surprise Shower:

My niece, who is also my godchild, is to be married in six weeks. I am giving a surprise shower for her in a restaurant and want to invite about 30 ladies. The restaurant manager wants to know just how many are coming, because they charge by the plate and I have to pay for each whether they come or not. When I send out the invitations, may I ask each guest if she can come, and how should I word it? How far ahead should I mail them?

Louise Davis Answers:
It would be much simpler to phone your guests. With each call, you would then get an acceptance or regret, and at the same time you could be more emphatic that your party is to be a surprise. I suggest that you do this at least two weeks before the shower. If you still prefer to mail invitations, I am sure you can find just what you want at any stationer's. When inserting the information on them, include an R.S.V.P., your address and telephone number.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Scott Thurston of 2851 Admirals Road, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Margaret Nora, to Gilbert Alexander Hart, son of Mr. and

DEAR ABBY...

Passing the Buck!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am the father of three boys, ages 6, 7 and 9. Like most boys, they need a firm hand to keep them in line.

My wife seems to think it is the father's duty to punish the children. When I come home at night I find them standing in a corner waiting for the whipping promised by their mother "when Daddy comes home."

Not wishing to contradict my wife in front of the children, I spank them. This puts a damper on the entire evening.

I am tired of being the "bad guy." Your advice will be appreciated.

"CHIEF WHIPPER."

DEAR "CHIEF": Advise your wife (in private, of course) that (a) punishment loses its effectiveness when delayed; (b) a more effective method of punishing children is to deprive them of something they enjoy; (c) the responsibility of disciplining children should be shared equally by both parents.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a woman age 46 having a big church wedding with a veil, white gown and all the trimmings?

If she looked young for her age it wouldn't be so bad. But she's grey-haired and looks like a grandmother. She is a maiden lady. He was married twice before and looks older than she does. His hair is also grey. People are laughing behind their backs. They are having old women for bridesmaids and old men for ushers. Folks who don't even know them will go to the church just to look at these old grey-haired fools. It will be like going to see a couple of freaks at a side show. How can I discourage this thing?

DEAR FRIEND: If the bride wants this kind of a wedding, inappropriate as it is, she's entitled to it. (P.S. How old are YOU?)

DEAR ABBY: Please tell me what to do. I went to a lawyer and he said, "Go to a doctor." I went to a doctor and he said, "Go to a lawyer."

I have been married 22 years to a man who treats me like dirt. He calls me all kinds of names and laughs at me when I cry. He won't give me any money to live on—I had to take him to court when the kids were little because he was so stingy and mean.

When I worked he made me give him all my earnings. I can't work any more because I have high blood pressure, colitis, diabetes and arthritis. Also, if my husband feels like leaving for two or three days he walks out and when I ask him where he is going he tells me it's none of my business. I know he has other women. Please help me because no matter how bad he treats me I still love him.

TEARS.
DEAR TEARS: I think the lawyer is right. You should see a doctor.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "SUCKER": Next time give him bus fare and tell him to go home and get his wallet. This gag is older than Methuselah.

What's your problem? For a personal reply, write to ABBY, care of this paper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

FOR DEFORMED CHILDREN

Mother Builds Memorial to Son

MAGOG, Que. (CP)—On a mountain-top overlooking Lake Memphremagog stands a lonely hospital that cares for deformed children who have been rejected by other institutions.

The Cecil Butters Memorial Hospital is a 50-room, three-storey brick-veneer structure. Its rooms are painted in pastel colors and fluffy curtains criss-cross over the windows. Except for its size it looks like an average home.

But inside are 250 deformed children who have been classed by other hospitals as hopeless. All are mentally retarded and some are blind or mute as well.

British-born Mrs. Butters, 61, started her hospital 14 years ago as a memorial to a son who was killed in a bomber accident at St. John's, Que., in 1943. She said she had dreamed of having such a hospital since she was a school girl.

PLANS AHEAD
"I want it to go on and on," she said. "Everything I do is planned for the future, too, so that the hospital will continue when I am no longer here."

A trained administrator with a professional staff of 30, Mrs. Butters has received $35,000 in government aid, the first grant two years ago. But last year alone expansion cost her $45,000. There is a waiting list of more than 200 for her hospital.

Mrs. Butters, who said one of her main objects is to keep the hospital from looking like an institution, described the building as an outgrowth in which she and her husband lived when they came from England 30 years ago.

"It is still our home," she said. "And it will be the only home that many of these children will ever have."

Reception

A supper reception for 30 guests will be held in the Oliver Street home of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Abbott following the symphony concert on Sunday. Guests of honor will be Lee Hopper, visiting conductor from Edmonton, and his wife, Patricia Rolston, who will be guest pianist at the concert. Reception will also honor the Lake Cowichan Chorale and director, Mrs. Elsie Kirby, who are also on the program. Other reception guests will include Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Milburn, Miss Marie Milburn and Lieut. F. Crickard.

Gifts in Wagon

A covered wagon decorated in pink and white and pulled into room by little Marie and Jimmy Harris held gifts for bride-elect, Miss Margaret Thurston, at a shower given recently by Mrs. Mac Harris. Large affair was held in the rumpus room of the Harris home on Dunlevy Street. A corsage of pink roses was presented to the bride-elect. Refreshment table was centred with a bowl of pink and white snapdragons and carnations. There were 35 guests.

Christmas Breakfast Can Be Fun

A gay holiday breakfast puts hostess and guests in a festive mood and is kinder to a time-and-money budget than more elaborate entertainment.

If time is short for preparation of food, bakeries overflow with tempting, fancy coffee cakes and breads. Other breakfast foods such as hot coffee, chilled fruits, skillet-cooked bacon or sausage, eggs, and the like can be planned for last-minute preparation.

To set the holiday theme in table decorations, scan the many bright and attractive linens with seasonal motifs and the ready-to-assemble centrepieces. Such accessories are a boon to a busy person.

If room for dining is part of the kitchen area, you may want to hang festive curtains for the occasion.

Gaily printed linen dish towels can double as cafe curtains during the holidays. Clip on curtain clips make the conversion a matter of minutes. Among designs suitable for this are the ones which can be matched up tablecloths and aprons.

For example, one designer has screen-printed a holly pattern in stripes on Belgian linen kitchen towels and repeated the design in different placement on aprons, tablecloths and napkins. Poinsettias in vivid clusters are another seasonal motif that appears in co-ordinated linens.

Holiday linens which are printed with pretty, colored bulbs and pine sprays suggest centrepieces of real pine boughs or authentic Christmas balls.

For a breakfast party, the table decorations might be a jolly snowman, hollowed out to hold small gift packages for the guests, or a homemade Santa and sled to carry a tiny trinket for everyone.

Whether you serve buffet style or have the table set for sit-down service, a breakfast is informal enough to make good use of any electrical helpers you have.

Candy Cut

SUDBURY, Ont. (CP)—Despite pleas from young spectators of "Where's the candy?" none was distributed at Sudbury's Santa Claus parade this year. Officials explained that candy distribution was getting too expensive.

Members of more than 33 years were honored at Women's Canadian Club golden anniversary Christmas tea in the Empress Hotel Wednesday afternoon. Among them were, from the left, Mrs. F. A. Willis, Miss Alina Russell and Miss Kathleen Agnew, pictured with club president, Mrs. R. G. McKee, at right, and Mrs. F. M. Corbett, second vice-president and social chairman. Mrs. Willis and Miss Agnew are past presidents of the club. Mrs. Corbett was in charge of arrangements for the tea.

'Christmas in Austria' Interesting Theme

If we could know the songs and folklore of the people of other lands we would know what is in their hearts.

This is the belief of Dr. J. Beattie MacLean, professor of German at Victoria College who described a Christmas in Austria at Women's Canadian Club here Wednesday afternoon.

Occasion was the club's golden anniversary Christmas party in Crystal Ballroom, Empress Hotel.

Dr. MacLean, who was a Ford Foundation Fellow at University of Innsbruck in Austria in 1953, spent the Yuletide season there with his family.

"In Austria, Christmas is a very joyous and gay season, but most of all, it has a deep and religious meaning to all."

he said. Preparations begin weeks in advance for the Christmas feast. Starting in the kitchen, dishes and goodies are prepared with special recipes that are guarded by each housewife and kept secret as they are handed down through each generation.

Dr. MacLean explained reason for an Advent Cross that is seen in very home.

"There are four candles, one for each Sunday in the four weeks before Christmas. These are lit, one each week, until at last all are burning and Christmas Day is heralded in."

He stressed the fact that Austrians feel the coming of Christ very deeply during the Advent.

In Austria, as in this country, there is a good spirit, St.

Nicholas, but there is also a bad spirit, Der Krampus. St. Nicholas spreads good will and goodies, while Krampus, who is dreaded by each child, threatens punishment if children do not listen to their parents.

CITY IN SILENCE

Dr. MacLean recalled for his audience the Christmas Eve when at 3 p.m. all stores, office and transportation closed and, as evening drew on, a silence, assisted by a new fall of snow, covered the city of Innsbruck.

"It was as if the whole city was waiting in breathless anticipation... quite a contrast to the noise of parties and bright lights in our country," said he.

Later on Christmas Eve the people attended midnight mass where carols were sung and a blast of trumpets heralded the coming of Christmas Day.

"The beauty of the city that night was incredible to behold," declared Dr. MacLean. "The hills were alive with lights as the people, bearing torches marched down. It was as if the mountain was moving."

For the special tea, ballroom was decorated in a festive theme. Red and white poinsettias and frosted bells decorated the dais. Mrs. R. G. McKee presided and introduced guests; Dr. Olga Jardine was in charge of program, and Mrs. F. M. Corbett, convoked arrangements.

Miniature Bazaar Makes $450

Poinsettias and Christmas greens decorated lounge and occupational therapy rooms at Gorge Road Hospital for a miniature bazaar, held by the Ladies' Auxiliary, Wednesday afternoon. A sum of $450 was realized.

Auxiliary president, Mrs. R. Aitken received guests and presiding at the head tea table were Mrs. E. R. Owen, Mrs. P. J. Woolley and Mrs. W. W. MacGregor. Assisting as servers were Mrs. A. Curtis, Mrs. R. B. Simm, Mrs. P. Jackson, Mrs. J. Callam and Mrs. T. Pedelsten.

Mrs. H. Kolb was in charge of a minicement stall and Mrs. C. Coleman and Mrs. V. Melby, a hat bar.

Guild Makes $320 For Church Work

Mrs. F. Chappell, an honorary member of the Ladies' Guild of St. Albans' Church, opened their recent bazaar. Affair raised $320 for church work. Guests were greeted by Mrs. W. C. Mooney, the guild's president.

Mrs. G. Slessor convoked afternoon tea. Individual tables were centred with holly and pine cones. Members of the Young Women's Guild acted as servers.

In charge of the various stalls were Mrs. G. S. Foubister, candy; Mrs. Frank Hawes, needlework; Mrs. C. Nutley, home cooking, and Mrs. J. B. Harper, white elephant. Mrs. E. Murcheson was in charge of door receipts.

Present for Royal Baby

LONDON (AP)—Mrs. Nellie Barton, 92, this week handed the Royal Family her proudest product of a lifetime's knitting—a coat, mittens and socks for the Queen's coming child.

Mrs. Barton presented the gift to the Queen Mother, who met her at the opening of a nursing home.

"They're lovely," said the Queen Mother. "I'm sure the Queen will be very pleased."

Mrs. Barton still knits at least four hours a day and says her fingers fly as fast as ever. She made the outfit in white wool with white ribbons rather than risk a choice of pink or blue.

$1,000 Award Because She Cannot Wear Evening Dress

TORONTO (CP). — Mrs. Rosemarie Hiesl, who does part-time cleaning in homes and offices to supplement her family income, was awarded $1,000 Friday for automobile accident injuries that left her with a protruding collarbone. Mr. Justice S. N. Schatz, in announcing his decision in the Supreme Court of Ontario, said in part:

"While there is some disability as far as evening dress is concerned, this would not be as serious in this case as it might be in others."

Mrs. Hiesl, 25, a German-born mother of two boys, said in an interview Friday night that since the accident 16 months ago she has not worn a low-cut gown or attended a party or dance that called for off-the-shoulder wear.

"I have two evening dresses and I used to wear them to parties and dances at least 20 times a year. And now I'm going to do it again at Christmas."

She commented: "I didn't understand what the judge was hinting at. Does he mean that I am not as good as some other women so I do not count?"

A Christmas gift to be cherished is this tree decorated with silver. Platter holds an English plum pudding.

Gift Tree for Christmas

Christmas is the season for gracious giving and family happiness. So you may want to hear about a sterling silver Christmas gift tree for the new bride or for the mother whose silver needs adding to. Use a deep green little tree about three feet high. Set it on a firm base. Now trim with all the pieces of sterling you and other friends and relatives want to give the lucky lady. Either carry the tree to her home to surprise her, or place it on the dinner table and cover with a cloth. Then when everyone is seated, unveil the beautiful silver tree.

To decorate: Wrap a sprig of holly around the handles of extra serving spoons, sauce and soup ladles, butter knives, a cold meat fork and extra coffee and dessert spoons. Use short lengths of soft florist's wire and leave an inch of wire for attaching pieces to the tree branch. Or use tiny Christmas tree balls or little red or green ribbon bows.

Another silver surprise: Make a rich plum pudding and arrange to have it served on the sterling platter you are giving with the set. Members of the family will gladly enter into this Christmas conspiracy with you.

Here's an old English plum pudding recipe that is 100 per cent practical. It would make a very welcome Christmas gift.

ENGLISH PLUM PUDDING

Put in a bowl: One cup hot milk, 1 cup dry bread crumbs. Let stand until cool. Add ½ cup sugar, 4 egg yolks, well beaten; ½ pound seeded raisins, cut in pieces and floured; ¾ pound figs, chopped; 2 ounces citron, cut fine. Work ½ pound chopped suet with fingers or a wooden spoon until creamy. Add to the first mixture. Stir in ¼ cup wine, grape juice or currant jelly, 1 teaspoon nutmeg, ½ teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon clove, ¼ teaspoon mace, 1½ teaspoons salt. Beat 4 egg whites until stiff. Fold in. Steam 6 hours. Serve with hard sauce or thin sauce.

Note: To flame the warm pudding, pour ¼ cup warmed brandy over it, light with a match and carry to the table. Traditional, rich and delicious, it's the climax of a holiday dinner. (Serves eight.)

Here's Hair-Raising Tale of a Wigged Woman

WASHINGTON (NEA) — If you want people to remember you, try scalping yourself at cocktail parties.

It's unlikely that guests who have seen Mrs. Frank Kluckhohn suddenly lift the curly locks from her head and pass them around for inspection will ever forget her.

Mrs. Kluckhohn — her first name is June — is the wife of a Washington, D.C., public relations man. She was one of the first gals in town to take up the nylon wig fad.

June has three of the $35 feminine toupees — brunette, red, and platinum blond. And she just ordered a champagne blonde number to match her real hair, which bristles in the form of a GT flat-top.

When June doffs her wigs to show what's left of her natural hair, the reactions of other guests are usually mixed. "Some of my old friends haven't recognized me," she explains. "Others have laughed. Some have gone along with the whole thing very well while others have declared, 'I don't even want to know you.' I think these people were upset because I wasn't being conventional. But I love them dearly."

UNPREDICTABLE

Actually, it doesn't make any difference to June whether people like her new look or not. The Australian-born beauty is having the time of her life and living up to her favorite self-appraisal. "I never know what I'm going to do next."

June's impromptu decision to wear nylon wigs goes back to the day when she took her 12-year-old son to the barber shop. "When I saw him getting a flat-top," she explains, "I suddenly wanted to get one too. So I did. When he saw me, he started to cry and said no mother should look like that."

"I tried to explain that although I had changed outwardly, I was still the same inwardly. That didn't do any good. I started worrying that I had done some terrible thing. That's when I decided to get the first wig, the black one. When my son saw it, his sign of relief was so terrific that I knew I had done the right thing. I had always wanted to be a brunette, anyway."

She explains that the fun she had buying the first wig prompted her to get the others. "The girls at the shop were simply wonderful to me," she says. "They were so nice and so impressed with the way I looked in the wigs that I kept trying them on and decided to get more than one."

Her husband has been very understanding about the multiple change in his wife's looks. June says, "Frank has been amazingly nice. He says that he feels as if he has three girls in one. He only gasps a little when the bills for the wigs come in."

She states that since adopting the new fad she has acquired a three-dimensional taste in clothes. "Instead of shopping for clothes that go with my natural hair," she explains, "I find myself thinking of what to buy from the viewpoints of a brunette and redhead, too."

LOVES NOVELTY

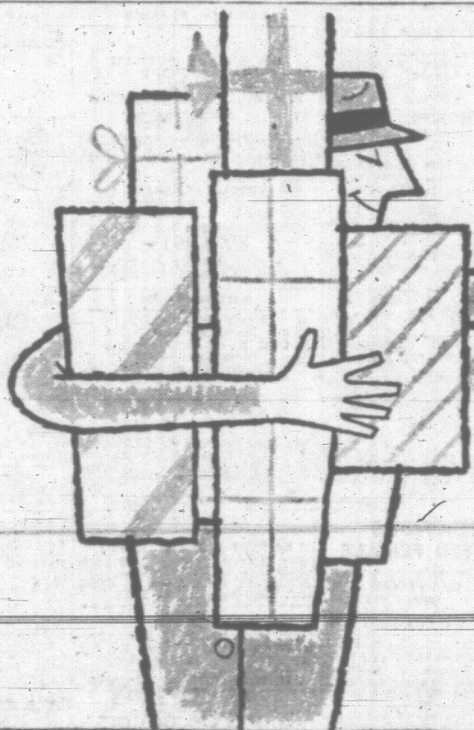

June's love for doing the new and unusual has been with her all her life. During World War II, she served with the U.S. Navy in Australia as a clerk. "But I made such a mess of things," she says, "that they made me a receptionist, instead."

Later she got a job as a foreign correspondent in Australia with an American newspaper. This job soon took her to the Philippines where she stayed until coming to the U.S. in 1945.

Does she plan to always wear the wigs? Her answer is the one she reserves for all questions about the future. "I never know what I'm going to do," she explains. "I'm either going to keep my natural hair real short or let it grow long."

B.C. Offers Prize for Top Travel Writer

The B.C. government is putting up a $250 prize and an all expense paid trip for two, by air to this province for the Canadian newspaperman who writes the best Canadian travel story in the next three months.

Cosponsor of the contest is the magazine, Canadian Journalist and Press Photographer. The contest offers no alternative trip if the winner should be a B.C. newspaper writer.

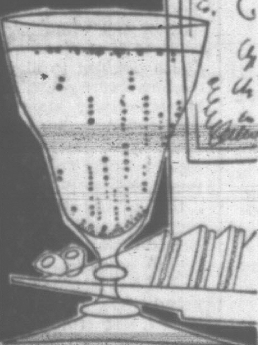

Recreation Minister E. C. Westwood said he felt the award would stimulate an interest in travel writing in Canada. "Canadians should think east and west in planning their holidays and perhaps the B.C. travel award will stimulate an interest in this kind of thinking," Mr. Westwood said.

Entries will close March 15 and the winner will be named at the annual meeting of the Managing Editors' Association to be held in Victoria, May 10, 1960.

Stir crisp, sweet, moisture-free instant minced onion, chopped parsley and finely grated raw carrot into hot buttered rice.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

You Have a Variety of Colds From Which to 'Choose'

There are different kinds of colds. There is the cold caused by bacteria. Then there is the one with an allergic basis and of course, there are the virus colds. So far only about 30 per cent of all colds are caused by viruses which have been isolated.

If your cold is caused by bacteria, the antibiotics probably will remedy the situation. If the background of your cold is allergic, your physician probably will prescribe one of the antihistamines. There is not yet a drug which can combat the common cold virus.

About the only way to keep from catching a cold is to keep warm, dry and well fed and if possible stay away from people who have colds.

Of course we also know that over-fatigue, lack of sleep and rooms which are overheated may lay the foundation for a cold we might otherwise not have had.

I would like to say a word here about the short-sightedness and thoughtless attitude of many folks when they have a cold. In the first place they go to work and out socially and contaminate many others. Even when for some reason this is necessary, they are not considerate. They blow their noses and wipe them with a handkerchief rather than tissue (which can be immediately disposed of). The handkerchief dries and germs fly about looking for other victims. I think it is terrible for parents to send their children to school when they have colds. They only will spread them among other children.

In many homes when one member of the family catches a cold you can expect it to go through the whole family. If you can possibly do so, isolate the victim. At least keep his door closed so that germs do not float about the whole house. Air out the other rooms periodically. Have the patient use tissues and dispose of them immediately.

People celebrate the milestones in their lives in different ways. For most, the occasion of a birthday or an anniversary means a party and gifts, but to a couple in Delburne, Alberta, a recent diamond wedding anniversary was marked with a contribution to the Unitarian Service Committee, 78 Sparks Street, Ottawa, "in appreciation of many happy years." Their anniversary gift, along with many others, will be used for the establishment of an Agricultural Training School for Korean orphans.

"FOREST" CEDAR SIDING

WHAT IS FOREST SIDING?

Made of dry 1 1/2" stock in 12 and 16 inch widths. "FOREST" siding is a new type of siding obtained from specially selected cedar logs, sawn to show the beauty and character of knots, burrs, etc.

APPEARANCE?

For homes and buildings where a distinctive and pleasing appearance is desired enhanced by heavy shading and lines. Sound interlocking knots ranging in size from 1/2 inch to 1 1/2 inch widths to the rustic appearance of this grade.

WHAT ARE ITS QUALITIES?

"FOREST" siding, with its substantial thickness and greater wood volume, adds to the structural strength and solidity of the building.

The design of "FOREST" siding ensures a tight weather seal at the lap which together with its thickness and flush-on-base principle makes excellent material from the insulation standpoint.

"FOREST" siding represents an economical, long-lasting siding. Cutting less than most other types of siding the lap design ensures easy, fast and ready application at less labor cost.

HOW IS IT APPLIED?

As easily and quickly as common shingles. Each piece of "FOREST" siding fits snugly on the one below and requires only one nailing cut.

HOW CAN IT BE FINISHED?

If a natural finish is desired, use equal proportions of raw linseed oil and water. "FOREST" siding is also available in a variety of stains and finishes. For a color finish, use a water-based stain. "FOREST" siding can be painted with any good quality paint.

People and Things

(Times News Services)

NEW YORK—It wasn't snow, nor rain, nor gloom of night that held up the mails for a year. It was simply that tired, rundown Mailman Horace W. Carpenter, 44, was caught Wednesday and charged with delaying delivery of 15,000 pieces of mail.

Postal inspectors said Carpenter, a letter carrier for 14 years, told them he often grew fatigued toward the end of his route and chucked the rest of the mail in the trunk of his car.

He always planned to deliver it another day when he had less to carry. But he never did and the pile of letters grew and grew.

LOS ANGELES—Police say a man broke into a bar, took $30 from a juke box and served himself a free beer. Then he had a second beer. And another. When bartender Stanley Miller reported for work Wednesday, he found the man asleep on the floor, the money hidden in a paper bag. Officers booked Joseph Elvas, 37, on suspicion of burglary.

SAN FRANCISCO—James A. Rork, Arizona employment service director, suggests Indian smoke signals as the answer should nuclear attack wipe out modern communications.

Rork told an emergency manpower conference of civil defense officials Wednesday: "In Arizona we use smoke signals to reach Hopi Indian firefighters in an emergency. We burn old automobile tires to make good black smoke."

GLASGOW—Whisky distiller Alexander Grant Wednesday night offered £500 and a crate of whisky to anyone finding his wife's poodle dog.

OLYMPIA, Wash.—A merchant here displayed a sign on his store building Wednesday reading: "Open Sundays until Christmas."

Across the street a competitor countered by posting a sign which read "Open evenings until Christmas. See you in church Sunday."

LONDON—Albert H. Robinson was divorced by Mrs. Olive Robinson today for overdoing that strong, silent stuff. Mrs. Robinson said her husband began not talking to her when he was in the army in the Second World War. He spent one three-week leave at home without saying a word.

After the war, she testified he formed the habit of never speaking to her on weekends. Finally he went a whole year without addressing or replying to her.

Granting Mrs. Robinson her decree, the judge commented: "Nothing can be more devastating in a matrimonial home than for one party to be silent for week after week."

U.S. to Recall Army in Iceland

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States announced it will withdraw all of its 1,200 army troops from Iceland where their presence had generated some friction.

The defence department said the withdrawal, to be carried out during the first six months of 1960, was part of a "normal redeployment" and had nothing to do with recent incidents.

Approximately 4,000 air force and navy personnel will remain in Iceland.

The department said that the decision to pull out the army troops was initiated by the United States alone, and that the Icelandic government was later "made aware" of the decision.

It insisted the withdrawal had no connection with the recent recall of the American commanding officer in Iceland, Air Force Brig. Gen. Gilbert Pritchard. Pritchard was removed at the request of the Icelandic government after an incident involving two Icelandic citizens and U.S. military guards.

The Icelandic government had said the two civilians who had entered a military area were humiliated and forced to lie in a puddle while military police examined their papers.

The defence department also said timing of the withdrawal announcement had "no connection" with the inauguration of a new Icelandic government last month. The American troop controversy was an issue in the campaign.

Retroactive Terms Asked By Steelmen

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Steelworkers Union asked the industry today to make strike settlement terms retroactive and to pay before Christmas a cost-of-living wage increase expected January 1.

An interim agreement to that effect now "would contribute to the collective bargaining climate of the final settlement," President David J. McDonald said in a letter to heads of the various companies.

MEET AGAIN

He made the letter public as union and company negotiators were summoned to another joint meeting with federal mediators.

There was no immediate comment from industry sources.

McDonald asked that whatever settlement is made be retroactive to Nov. 7, when a Taft-Hartley law injunction sent the men back to work after a 116-day strike.

WOMAN HIT BY CYCLIST DRAWS YEAR IN JAIL

RENNES, France (Reuters)—A 58-year-old woman who was knocked down by a man riding a motor-powered bicycle has been jailed for 12 months for the manslaughter of the cyclist.

The court was told Wednesday that Mrs. Leon-tine Blanchais had been drinking and was "zig-zagging" along the road when the bicycle hit her. She was alleged to have left the cyclist lying on the road after the accident.

PLEASURE AFLOAT

New Outboard Boats on Show

Two new outboard boats have turned up for sale in Victoria to prove that progress is wonderful, but that there is still plenty of room for tradition.

One of them is a 14-foot plastic runabout made by Charles G. Beeching, 2635 Lincoln, on molds taken from the prototype discussed by this column earlier this year. The other is an Eastern sea skiff, popular for 30 years on the Atlantic seaboard.

Better known as the Jersey sea skiff, it was built in 16 and 20-foot models by Oriental Yachts of Hong Kong, under license from the American firm. Local outlet is Mayhew, Strutt and Williams, 2312 Douglas, where Bart Fletcher heads up the marine section.

The 16-footers on display, designed for 35-horsepower outboards, are almost anachronisms, considering modern taste.

For one thing, they are made of solid wood. Frames are oak and everything else is Philippine mahogany—transom, planking, trim and even cockpit floor. There is no plywood.

For another, they are clin-ker-built, and the sight of that sturdy, overlapping planking has stirred the hearts of enough Victorians to make the dealer most happy with this line.

All sea skiffs are fastened with square copper rivets at two-inch intervals, and frames are on six-inch centres.

They will give a respectable turn of speed with 35 horsepower—upwards of 20 knots—but their chief stock in trade is stability and safety.

Chest Honors Firms For 'Extra' $20,000

Employees of Greater Victoria firms made it possible for the Community Chest to collect $20,000 more this year than last, campaign chairman Eric Mallett said yesterday.

He was speaking at a luncheon in the Net Loft honoring employees of 33 firms who made outstanding contributions to the Chest.

Plaques, paid for by the companies receiving them, were presented by Miss Red Feather, 18-year-old handicapped worker, who was the human symbol of this year's drive.

Said Justin Harbord, Chest president:

"If the entire community ever accepted as a standard that of the employees represented here today, there never would be any difficulty reaching our objective."

Plaques were presented to the following firms:

Kelly Douglas Ltd., Canadian General Electric Co., Yarrows Ltd., Sooke Lake Lumber, Princess Mary Restaurant, Canada Permanent Mortgage Corp., Ker & Stephenson Ltd., Victorian Order of Nurses, Bank of Montreal, T. Eaton Co., National Motors Ltd., B.C. Land Investments, Mutual Life of Canada Ltd., Goodwill Enterprises, Family and Children's Service.

Manufacturers' Life Insurance Co., C.I.V.I. Prudential Insurance Co. of America, June Bros., Canada Dry Bottling Co., Toronto-Dominion Bank, Smith Cedar Products, McCall Bros., Ismay, Bolton, Dunn & Co., Woodwards Stores, Scurrah's Ltd., Speedway Motors, Dominion Life Assurance Co., Macdonalds Consolidated Ltd., Goodwill Bottling Co., Standard Oil, Imperial Life Assurance, and Harbord Insurance Co.

RIVAL FIRMS BEFORE PUC

Hold-Up in Gas Charge Disputed

A statement that the Magna Pipeline Co. Ltd. was "doing nothing" about constructing a natural gas pipeline to Vancouver Island in 1958 was challenged before the Public Utilities Commission Wednesday afternoon.

John Taggart, counsel for the Magna Co., asked A. F. Taylor of the Island Transmission Company on what he based this statement.

"Did you read the transcript of the earlier hearing last July?" asked Mr. Taggart.

"No, I haven't read it but I heard what was said at that hearing," Mr. Taylor replied.

He said when the hearing adjourned last July, the Magna Pipeline Company's plans were so "incomplete" it meant a two-year delay before the Island could get natural gas.

COST $16 MILLION

Both Inland Transmission and the Magna Company are seeking a franchise from the PUC to build a pipeline to feed Peace River natural gas from the mainland to Vancouver Island centres.

James Morrison Pryde, consultant to the Inland company, said the project, costing $16,000,000, could be financed on a basis of 75 per cent bonds and 25 per cent equity.

This would involve $12,000,000 of 20-year first mortgage sinking fund bonds, bearing 6 per cent interest per annum, with a three-year moratorium.

Mr. Pryde said the system would be constructed of standard steel welded pipeline to serve utility and industrial consumers on the Island.

The utilities would be those at Victoria and Nanaimo and those foruncan, Chemainus and Ladysmith.

The industrials would be B.C. Cement Co. Ltd. at Bamerton, and the pulp mills of B.C. Forest Products Ltd. at Crofton and MacMillan-Bloedel Ltd. at Harmae.

INDUSTRY BIG MARKET

The B.C. Power Commission plant near Chemainus would be served with "dumpy" gas. Gas deliveries would begin at 5.2 billion cubic feet per year and would grow to 9.2 billion cubic feet by the 10th year.

The project would earn an average of about 8 per cent on its yearly depreciated rate base.

Mr. Pryde said the principal market for natural gas on Vancouver Island lies in sales to large industrial users and to the various utilities serving the domestic consumers in towns on the Island.

He stated that the present "all-electric" customers may be able to convert after the first few years of the program, provided natural gas is inexpensive and sufficient incentive through savings were indicated to warrant the change-over.

BACK TO SCHOOL

KELOWNA—Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sommerfield are sending their two children to school although they earlier said they would keep them home until traffic safety was improved in the area. The Sommerfields, whose youngest daughter was killed in a traffic accident earlier this year, drive the two children to school in the morning and the school board sees they get home.

FORTUNE PAID FOR ART COLLECTION

NEW YORK (CP)—One of the largest private art collections in Canada—that of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Sair of Winnipeg—was sold at a public auction Wednesday night.

The 27 pieces of art brought a total of $314,800.

Watch Fags Or Cilia Won't Work

NEW YORK (AP)—Two new scientific reports say cigarette smoke and air pollutants in smog may contribute to development of lung cancer by interfering with fluids and minute hair-like structures in the respiratory tract.

The reports, issued by scientists at the University of Southern California School of Medicine, appear in the November edition of The Journal of the National Cancer Institute.

The reports said natural and artificial smog and their components, as well as smoke from both filtered and non-filtered cigarettes affect the respiratory act's defence mechanism in three ways.

SLOWS-MUCOUS FLOW

They said they slow the flow of the mucous stream, change the physical properties of the mucous and decrease the whiplike action of the fine structures, called cilia.

Normal functioning of the mucous and cilia prevent accumulation of foreign matter on the lining of the respiratory tract.

The scientists suggested that impairment of this function by smoke may permit abnormal retention of cancer-causing chemicals there.

What are the Prospects for CANADA'S URANIUM INDUSTRY?

An informative article on the changing outlook for Canada's uranium industry is featured in our "Investment Review". This article is of timely interest to the holders of securities of uranium companies, and to investors in general.

The new contract arrangements covered by the "stretch-out-program" should permit a constructive consolidation of the industry, the article states, and the prospects for bondholders of certain companies are commented upon. In some cases mergers seem to be desirable.

Also in this issue is an article on the resurgence of Canada's steel industry—1959 a record year—and pointing out why investment in this industry merits consideration as a sound means of participating in Canada's growth.

Comments on business and finance, recent news of Canadian companies, and a list of selected investment recommendations are also included.

Vote to Buy Park Lands Now, Saanich Groups Urge

Officials of educational, recreational and planning organizations today joined forces in urging Saanich voters to approve a park referendum in the Dec. 17 elections.

While overshadowed by the fluoridation referendum, they unanimously agreed that the park issue will have far-reaching effects on the planning and development of Saanich.

The referendum asks ratepayers if they are in favor of council setting aside half-a-million a year (about $30,000) from general revenue for a special parks fund.

BUYING IN ADVANCE

It would be used to buy property which would be set aside for park development when it became necessary.

Reeve George Chatterton initiated the referendum when some councillors bucked his proposal to increase expenditures for parks to meet the demands of the fast-increasing population.

Saanich has not acquired any major parkland since 1945. Since then the population of the municipality has more than doubled.

BEACHES LOST

Mrs. Irene Byers, president of the Victoria and District PTA Council, noted that Saanich lost some choice beaches and playing fields because of the lack of planning in the past.

"Our population is growing and we are already deficient in playing fields," she said. "A parks fund will do much to look after our future needs."

Maj. George A. Wiggins, secretary of the Victoria Horticultural Society, noted that many beauty spots in Saanich have fallen into the hands of subdividers.

"What is left will go fast unless there are funds to acquire them," he said.

Mrs. Catherine Skinner, president of the Victoria Arboretum Society, said the fund would help preserve the amenities of Saanich.

"This in turn helps to maintain property values," she said. "Parks of all types are of value to both children and grown-ups."

Brahm Wiesman, director of the Capital Region Planning Board, said the fund would permit Saanich to acquire land at reasonable prices.

"It is cheaper to buy land in a region which has not yet been developed," he said. "Property prices in a developed district are usually high."

Mr. Wiseman said the fund would enable Saanich to plan its recreational facilities for its growing population.

"The way Saanich is growing," he added, "there is soon going to be an acute shortage of playing fields for sports. Beaches should also be acquired."

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Whatever happened to all the quizmasters? Well, George DeWitt told me at Sardi's the other morning that he's going back on the air for two networks — doing a one-hour "Music Carnival" for CBS and a half-hour "Spotlight" talent program for NBC.

Naturally, they won't be quiz shows. George, who opened last Friday night at the Chicago Chez Paree with Bobby Darin, said: "The way things have worked out, I'm sort of glad that 'Name That Tune' went off, even though my show was clean and innocent."

Then quizmaster Jack Barry — producer, actor and night club star — revealed that he'd asked a very important question of pretty Patte Preble, member of the casting department of Young & Rubicam-ad agency — and that she'd given the right answer ("yes") without being supplied any answers in advance. So they're engaged and will be married early in 1960. Jack, who was hardly scratched in the Quiz Quiz, commented, "This is the first nice thing that's happened to me in a long time."

Judy Garland's lost 24 pounds already in Doctor's Hospital (where her ailment's been diagnosed as hepatitis) . . . Prince Ghika of Cuba is here trying to persuade Lillian Kramer to become his princess . . . Henry Fonda, of whom I couldn't be fonder, has a deathless line (by playwright Robert Anderson) in "Silent Night, Lonely Night." Discussing parental restrictions on children in a scene with Barbara Bel Geddes, Fonda says: "They should put a label on youth reading: 'Perishable, Use at Once'."

Some N'Yorkers are wondering if Otto Preminger'll change his "Exodus" picture to "Sexodus" . . . John Wayne wired from Brackettville, Tex., that he has placed Russell Birdwell in charge of all advtg., exploitation and publicity on his picture "Alamo," which he is directing, producing and starring in Wayne, who's had a couple of fist fights with helpers, has inspired the crack: "Who does Wayne think he is — John Wayne?"

Some TV broadcasting brass is to be embarrassed in the "plug probe" — it'll come out that they knew and approved of big money being paid right to the network for plugs — apart from the regular commercials. Thus they privately o.k.'d a practice that was publicly abhorred.

The Midnight Earl . . . Tony Martin bowed out of a Miami Beach American date in a hassle over Jose Greco's billing . . . Ken Murray comes to the Copa Feb. 11 . . . Jackie Gleason's back full time in "Take Me Along" after a one-day illness. Eddie Fisher saluted manager Milton Blackstone's mother, 83, in his Waldorf show.

Jack Benny'll take the McGuire sisters to England for his Palladium show . . . Joan Collins is in town, dating actor Warren Beatty . . . Debbie Reynolds' pal, Camille Williams, is around with Eddie Fisher's musical accompanist, Eddie Samuels.

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy. Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes. The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 16-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia (Canadian edition) and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

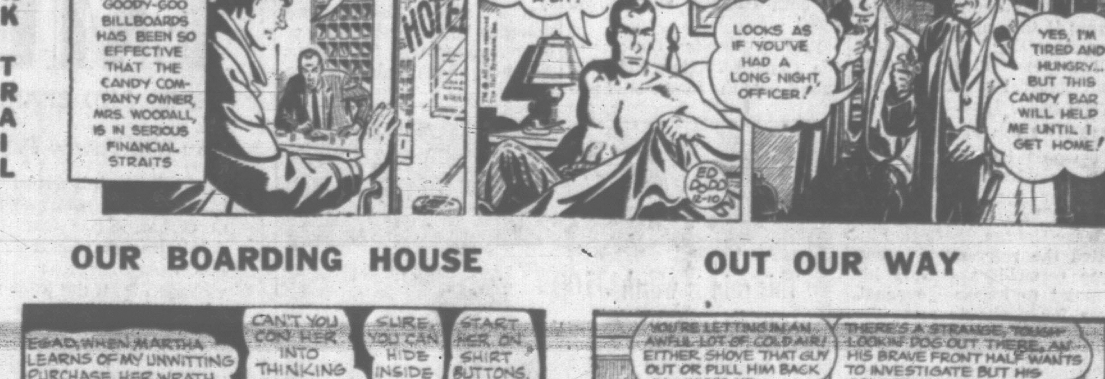

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Ronnie Luther, aged 11, of Speedway, Indiana, for his question:

What Is Blood Plasma?
An average sized man contains about 5 1/2 quarts of busy blood in his body. It gathers up water and digested food from the walls of the intestines and oxygen from the lungs. It gathers up waste materials from the body and delivers them to the kidneys, skin and lungs. The heart is the trusty pump which keeps the blood stream circulating throughout the body. Almost three quarts of a man's total blood supply is composed of red and white floating cells. The rest is the watery liquid called blood plasma.

The plasma is the liquid stream which carries the vital blood cells through the body. The blood itself is red because in every drop there are about 300 million floating red cells. In the same drop there are

Proper Balance Necessary
Nitrogen compounds, salts, sugars, fats, proteins, hormones and all sorts of antioxidants are but a few of the vital chemicals carried by the blood plasma. Whenever it flows, the hungry, thirsty tissues grab what they want from the vital fluid and pour their waste materials into it. Most important, the concentration of chemicals in the plasma must be kept balanced. If the solution is too weak, the red blood cells swell up and burst. If it is too strong, they shrivel and perish. The body has a number of ways to keep the chemical concentration of the plasma always in balance.

It can rid itself of waste and excess material. It can lose and gain water. The plasma totes waste materials to the kidneys which send them on out of the body. The plasma also loses chemicals and water in perspiration. New supplies of chemicals are poured in from the glands, from antitoxin medicines and from dissolved foods through the intestine walls. We replace the lost water to the plasma in the simplest way in the world — merely by drinking. Our liquid food and drink are absorbed by the plasma through the walls of the intestines.

'Serene' Messiah Draws Full House

By AUDREY JOHNSON

People were turned away from Metropolitan Church Wednesday night, when a capacity audience attended Victoria Choral Society's 1959 performance of "The Messiah."

RECORD SHOW FEATURES CHRISTMAS

A special Christmas concert has been planned for tonight by the Victoria Recorded Music Society, according to an announcement by society president, H. E. Stubbings.

The meeting will be held at Greater Victoria Art Gallery with the program beginning at 8 sharp.

New recordings just arrived in the city will be featured, including the Ceremony of Carols of King's College Chapel, Cambridge, and choral excerpts by St. John's College, Cambridge.

In addition there will be choral and organ selections recorded at Ely Cathedral.

As directed by Stanley Hoban this performance provided an excellent opportunity to assess the divergencies in the same choir's performance of the same work under different conductors.

The society has performed the Handel work on several previous occasions. The choir is well versed in the style of oratorio and Mr. Hoban also, obviously, knows well whereof he conducts.

But with these basic and essential factors accepted, other aspects claimed attention. Chief contracts lay between the sheer drive—the over-all dynamic brilliance of former renderings—and the greater serenity, the more subtle coloring of this one.

Mr. Hoban's choice of tempo was more favorable to the choir's technical equipment, if a shade less exciting to the listener.

SHOUTING AVOIDED

As a result, tone quality did not harden at any point, there was less tendency to shout in the climaxes and words were clearer. Slightly more "bite" in the attack on certain choruses was desirable, but on the other hand, climactic effects were outstanding, particularly in such numbers as "For Unto Us a Child is Born," "All We Like Sheep," and "Lift Up Your Heads, O Ye Gates."

A quartet of Victoria singers served as soloists with notable success. All are well known through many major achievements and with this performance added considerably to their individual stature.

Deeply satisfying were Ruth Champion and Eleanor Duff in the shared aria, "He Shall Feed His Flock," the former's "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth," and Miss Duff's "He Was Despised," as was Michael Rogers' "Comfort Ye," and "Behold and See," and John Dunbar's splendidly controlled "Why Do the Nations?" Richard Proudman at the organ gave excellent support throughout and was partnered with fair success by a string ensemble under leadership of James Fraser.

Crosby Quartet Back in January

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The four Crosby brothers will put their singing act together again in January, says Lindsay Crosby. Bing's sons broke up their act in Montreal last week and cancelled an engagement tonight at Palm Springs. Lindsay denied they were feuding. He conceded they had a "beef in Canada, but nothing serious." He said the reason for tonight's cancellation is that Gary, oldest of the four, has a throat ailment.

RACE RIOTING FLARES

Fiji's Capital Under Curfew

SUVA, Fiji (Reuters) — A curfew was ordered for the capital of this British colony in the Pacific today and national guardsmen were called out to restore order after two days of rioting.

The dusk-to-dawn curfew was imposed on Suva and Lautoka, on opposite sides of the main island in the Fijian group, and Nandi Airport near Lautoka. Nandi is a refuelling point for international airlines flying from Vancouver and California to Australia and New Zealand.

Rioting flared anew today when stone-throwing crowds massed in the town centre of this sultry port.

At one time the rioters broke through police ranks and reformed behind the club-wielding officers. The guardsmen were summoned after cars were stoned, a refreshment stand wrecked and a telephone booth torn from its foundations.

The trouble, which has been smouldering for years in racial animosity amongst the native Fijians and Indians and Europeans, began Wednesday when police broke up a crowd assembled to hear a union leader speak.

U.S. Reds Meeting

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Communist party of the U.S.A., shrunken and shaken by internal strife, opened its first national convention in nearly three years today.

SENSITIVE EX-MAYOR REJECTS VOTERS' GIFT

CALGARY (CP) — Former Mayor Don Mackay, criticized by a judicial inquiry for accepting gifts, has refused to accept one from the taxpayers.

Mr. Mackay returned to city hall a clock presented to him on behalf of the city for his 14 years as an alderman and mayor.

He said he could not accept the gift because of the treatment he had received from council during the last year.

VICTORIA'S POST OFFICE has started its annual "big push" — clearing the Christmas flood of mail — by opening temporary quarters in Bay Street Armoury. Extra staff, round-the-clock work, good planning, and years of experience all contribute to the office-keeping up with growing tide of mail. Seen above is Ralph de Tremaudan sending another sack of gifts on its way. (Times photo)

PUNCHING BAG INSTEAD

Don't Give Junior Toy Gun, Missile

OTTAWA (CP) — A Christmas shopping tip to parents: make junior's next gift a punching bag instead of a toy gun or missile.

It's a better buy all round, says Mrs. Eve Kassirer, president of the toy testing committee, a non-profit organization which keeps tabs nationally on the Canadian toy scene.

The committee feels there probably are too many guns, missiles and rocket toys on sale anyway, Mrs. Kassirer said Wednesday in an interview. But things will get worse in Canada in the missile field under the influence of United States trends, she predicted.

Mrs. Kassirer was commenting on a Washington report that police are checking store sales of missile-type toys in that city and banned sales of one chemical-powered rocket to children under 18.

She advocated three things to keep such sales under control — federal legislation, prompt action to bar dangerous toy imports and common sense by parents in selecting toys for their children.

The toy-testing committee says it has received a number of complaints about the workmanship on some toy guns.

"And, since children learn from playing, you can only expect that children who play with that type of toy will become more warlike," Mrs. Kassirer said.

'Serene' Messiah Draws Full House

By AUDREY JOHNSON
People were turned away from Metropolitan Church Wednesday night, when a capacity audience attended Victoria Choral Society's 1959 performance of "The Messiah."

RECORD SHOW FEATURES CHRISTMAS

A special Christmas concert has been planned for tonight by the Victoria Recorded Music Society, according to an announcement by society president, H. E. Stubbings.

The meeting will be held at Greater Victoria Art Gallery with the program beginning at 8 sharp.

New recordings just arrived in the city will be featured, including the Ceremony of Carols of King's College Chapel, Cambridge, and choral excerpts by St. John's College, Cambridge.

In addition there will be choral and organ selections recorded at Ely Cathedral.

As directed by Stanley Hoban this performance provided an excellent opportunity to assess the divergencies in the same work under different conductors.

The society has performed the Handel work on several previous occasions. The choir is well versed in the style of oratorio and Mr. Hoban also, obviously, knows well whereof he conducts.

But with these basic and essential factors accepted, other aspects claimed attention. Chief contracts lay between the sheer drive—the over-all dynamic brilliance of former renderings—and the greater serenity, the more subtle coloring of this one.

Mr. Hoban's choice of tempo was more favorable to the choir's technical equipment, if a shade less exciting to the listener.

SHOUTING AVOIDED
As a result, tone quality did not harden at any point, there was less tendency to shout in the climaxes and words were clearer. Slightly more "bite" in the attack on certain choruses was desirable, but on the other hand, climactic effects were outstanding, particularly in such numbers as "For Unto Us a Child Is Born," "All We Like Sheep," and "Lift Up Your Heads, O Ye Gates."

A quartet of Victoria singers served as soloists with notable success. All are well known through many major achievements and with this performance added considerably to their individual statures.

Deeply satisfying were Ruth Champion and Eleanor Duff in the shared aria, "He Shall Feed His Flock," the former's "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth," and Miss Duff's "He Was Despised," as was Michael Rogers' "Comfort Ye," and "Behold and See," and John Dunbar's splendidly controlled "Why Do the Nations."

Richard Proudman at the organ gave excellent support throughout and was partnered with fair success by a string ensemble under leadership of James Fraser.

Crosby Quartet Back in January

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The four Crosby brothers will put their singing act together again in January, says Lindsay Crosby. Bing's sons broke up their act in Montreal last week and cancelled an engagement tonight at Palm Springs. Lindsay denied they were feuding. He conceded they had a "beef in Canada, but nothing serious." He said the reason for tonight's cancellation is that Gary, oldest of the four, has a throat ailment.

CITY VOTE SETTING RECORD

Victim Pinned Under Truck 10 Minutes

A 78-year-old woman was killed almost instantly when crushed under a truck in downtown Victoria shortly before 2 p.m. today.

Her name was being withheld until relatives are notified.

ARSON BLAMED IN SCHOOL FIRE

VANCOUVER (CP)—A fire department official said it appears certain a fire that destroyed a 30-year-old school building early today was set by two "diabolical" arsonists.

The three-story, wooden building, part of a series of four buildings that make up John Oliver secondary school, one of the largest high school complexes in Western Canada, was valued by school board officials at $350,000.

It was near a $2,000,000 new cement structure.

Fire Warden Capt. Jack Bourne said it appears certain that two men seen near the area after the fire were responsible for it.

He said the "hoodlums" responsible were probably the same ones who attempted to set fire to the Sir Winston Churchill secondary school Monday.

The fatality occurred at Fort and Quadra Streets.

Police said the woman stepped from the curb on the south side of Fort, intending to cross Quadra, and the truck was turning left off Fort to go south on Quadra.

The driver, Harry Schild, 4905 Townsend, told police he did not see the victim.

Before he knew it, the woman was under the front of the Fensham Electric panel truck he was driving.

She was pinned under the vehicle about 10 minutes before a wrecker could lift it clear.

Police rushed her to St. Joseph's Hospital.

City police prowler car officer Louis Pletz was at the scene.

He was driving east on Fort and stopped to allow the death truck to make its turn.

The officer said he did not see the woman either.

Former Ring Champ Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Tony Canzoneri, 51, former featherweight, lightweight and junior welterweight boxing champion, today was found dead, apparently of natural causes, in his midtown hotel room.

Cubans Capture U.S. Escapee

HAVANA (AP) — Frank Austin Young, American fugitive from a 30-year Cuban jail sentence, was arrested in a Havana hotel today after slightly more than 24 hours of freedom.

Hotel officials said Young registered there Wednesday under the name of Jack Morton.

Cmdr. Jose Argibay, regimental chief of Pinar Del Rio, reported earlier in the day that Young and Sergio Hernandez Reyes, who escaped with him, presumably were in Havana.

He said an automobile driver reported that he picked up two men Wednesday, one of them a North American, and that he brought them to the capital.

He identified Young when shown a picture of him, Argibay said.

Hotel officials said a waitress spotted Young and reported him to authorities.

FALSE ALARM

POLICE RUSH CITY BANKS

City police swarmed to Fort and Government branch of the Bank of Commerce expecting a hold-up at 11:35 a.m. today.

Seconds later they were heading for the Royal Bank a few doors up the street, still prepared for a hold-up, only to find a false alarm.

FINAL BULLETINS

De Gaulle Arrives for Africa Meet

ST. LOUIS, Senegal (Reuters)—President Charles de Gaulle arrived here by plane today for a four-day visit to West Africa during which he will preside over the sixth meeting of the executive council of the French Community.

In a statement, Mrs. Fairclough said that Chan "has on successive occasions broken the law of this country and he has indeed attempted to make a mockery of the law that it is my duty to uphold."

She said the Chan family has been treated "in a fair and considerate manner."

They will be sent back to Hong Kong once Chan, who vanished Nov. 2, is found.

Mrs. Chan spent a half-hour with Mrs. Fairclough Wednesday afternoon in a vain attempt to get the minister to change her mind.

Mrs. Fairclough has already described the whole Chan episode as a "publicity campaign more than an immigration department matter."

THREE OTHER ATTEMPTS

Her statement today covered three other attempts by the Chans, who have a daughter, to get into Canada, each of them futile.

In September, 1950, the Chans were said to have applied for non-immigrant visas at Hong Kong using the name Chan Yue Kwan and stating they wished to visit the Chan father-in-law, a Mr. Dong Jan Lung, although the latter had since work was resumed after the Nov. 7 effective date of an 80-day back-to-work injunction.

Shooting Accidental

SOMBRA, Ont. (CP) — A five-man coroner's jury, after two hours' deliberation, today returned a verdict of accidental death in the shotgun shooting Nov. 18 of former General Motors vice-president Harry W. Anderson, 67, by Harlow Curtice.

FORMAL UNITS

Formal bargaining units—those the government recognizes as proper—are on only a company-wide basis in the steel industry. Industry-wide talks during the current dispute have been carried on by informal industry union consent.

McDonald told each steel company in his letters that no negotiations between union and individual company bargaining teams have taken place

FAIRCLOUGH STATES CASE

'Mockery of Law Tried by Chan'

OTTAWA (CP) — Weldon Chan, seeking to stay in Canada, has broken Canadian law more than once and will be deported with his wife and child when he is found, Immigration Minister Ellen Fairclough said today.

In a statement, Mrs. Fairclough said that Chan "has on successive occasions broken the law of this country and he has indeed attempted to make a mockery of the law that it is my duty to uphold."

She said the Chan family has been treated "in a fair and considerate manner."

Election Fever Hits High Pitch

The city polling station was swamped this afternoon with a record-breaking deluge of voters. By 3 p.m., 7,822 Victorians had cast ballots in the civic elections. Last year at 2 p.m. there had been 3,512 votes.

By JOHN MIKA

Traffic jams on sidewalks and roads began piling up today outside the city polling station as Victorians flocked to the polls in what promised to be record numbers.

Harrassed electoral officials, traffic police and parking attendants were rushed off their feet all morning as the relentless stream of people flowed into the Victoria Ballroom, Government and Cormorant.

"I believe this will turn out to be a record vote," returning officer Frank Hunter said.

By noon, 3,723 votes had been cast—about 2½ times the average number during the first four hours of voting in the last three elections. Last year there were only 1,464 votes by noon.

The traditional peak hours of voting—2 to 3:30 p.m.—were expected to produce an unprecedented rush today.

The fluoridation referendum, the hot mayoralty race and one of the largest fields of aldermanic candidates in history accounted for the big early turnout.

If the heavy turnout continued until 8 p.m. closing tonight, it would produce about 15,000 votes which easily would surpass the previous record turnout of 63 per cent in 1938. Altogether, 20,352 persons are on this year's voters' list.

BEGAN EARLY

The heavy run of voters began sharp at 8 a.m. when about 20 persons lined up for the door-opening.

Despite damp weather, the early voters were predominantly older persons—many of them hobbling up the entrance ramp with the assistance of canes. Even a number of Saanich persons mistakenly went to the city poll.

Outside, three city policemen took turns directing traffic at the intersection as cars converged on the corner to park at hobbled meters around the building.

Half a block away, the site of the old market building was packed with cars going in and out as more voters parked. Two commissioners were kept busy guiding them to parking spaces.

Inside the voting station, an endless stream of voters kept returning officer Hunter and his staff of more than 60 men working at a feverish pitch directing persons to the proper booths and straightening out eligibility problems.

No incidents were reported during the morning as a police constable stationed inside the building kept a wary eye on the crowded room.

Ross First Freeman To Vote

Lieutenant-Governor Frank M. Ross today made Victoria election history when he cast a ballot in the civic poll as a Freeman of the City.

Although he was the fourth man declared a Freeman, Feb. 4 this year, he was the first in history to use the honor's privilege of casting a vote.

Mr. Ross, who heads the civic voters' list as a result of the honor, even lined up before the doors opened this morning along with about 20 other persons—a vice-regal example to all other citizens on the voters' list.

He got up early to cast the vote because he had to catch an airplane flight.

Ahead of him were the first voters in today's election, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Johnson of 1214 Yates.

KOREAN CRIPPLED KIDDIES FUND

Charity Leaps Racial Bars

The Christ Child is many-faceted. He can look like your own youngster, or the little boy down the street, in the next town, or in the next country. He can be white, or have slanted eyes, or be as black as a coal bin.

He can be healthy, or he can be crippled. He can be as round and fat as a Christmas pudding, or as thin as pain.

All children need the firm and gentle hand of guidance, children who are sick and troubled more than others.

It is these latter that concern the Unitarian Service Committee in its current appeal for funds through the Times.

It is a Christ-like concept on the eve of His birth who said

"suffer the little children to come unto me..."

The drive for money will help children with slanted eyes who suffer war wounds and other hurting physical results of the war in Korea, maiming polio and other diseases.

Specifically, the aim is to build a rehabilitation centre in Seoul, S. Korea, where 150 of these children are facing life with drawbacks unknown to more fortunate peoples.

It is the adults that get involved in the conflicts which hurt the children. Is it not reasonable that when sanity prevails steps should not be taken to remedy the trouble caused?

There just couldn't be an appeal more appealing.

Money gifts are income tax deductible, and should be sent or brought in to the Times downtown office, 1215 Broad, or to the main office at 2631 Douglas. They should be addressed to the Korean Crippled Kiddies' Fund.
